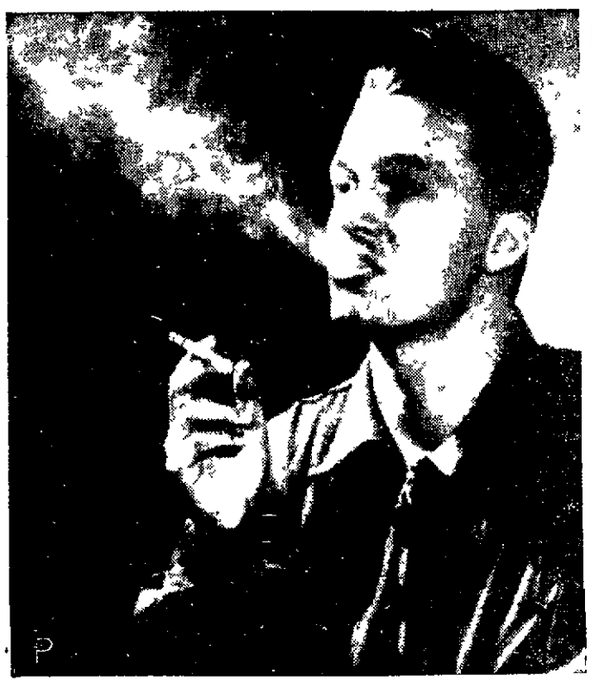
OHIO WESLEYAN STUDENT CONFESSES SLAYING OF HIS COLLEGE SWEETHEART



BLOWS UP A STORM OF CONFUSION. Nonchalantly smoking a cigaret, Airman 1-c Witold Glinski, 23, of Chicago seems unconcerned about being jailed amid rumors of a "Russian pilot and plane" landing in Champaign-Urbana, Ill. Glinski walked into the state police station wearing flying clothes and a pistol and mumbling in a foreign language. Then rumors that a "Russian pilot" had surrendered gained circulation. The Air Force, however, said the project was a joint Air Force-state police test to see what would happen in such a case. Glinski was later released from jail.

Allies Make Last Delivery Of Prisoners

Stockades Are Empty For First Time in 3 Years as Reds Watch

SEOUL (AP)—The U.N. Command today turned over to neutral Indian troops the last of some 22,600 prisoners who renounced communism, leaving Allied stockades empty of captives for the first time in three years.

With the final delivery came a surprise announcement that the Allies will not send observers to watch the arrival at the neutral zone Thursday of 359 Allied soldiers the Reds say don't want to go home. They include 23 Americans, 1 Briton and 335 South Koreans, according to a Communist newsman.

Reds Watch Transfer

Red observers watched the two-week transfer to the demilitarized zone of Allied-held POWs refusing repatriation. But the U.N. Command said 'we do not feel that the presence of UNC observers is necessary to insure a fair and successful handling of the turnover from the Communists.'

The Allied announcement added "we have confidence in the ability of the CFI (Custodial Force, India) to carry out its mission."

Simultaneously, India ordered 600 reinforcements for the 5,000-man force which will guard the unrepatriated POWs. The additional Indians will be airlifted by the U.S. Air Force via Japan and are expected this weekend.

Final delivery of prisoners to the buffer zone brings the armistice to a new phase. Starting Friday or Saturday, Allied and Communist interviewers have 90 days to try to coax their former soldiers to come home.

New Tension Felt

A new source of tension in the eight-week-old truce was a statement by Lt. Gen. Duke Anderson, U.S. 5th Air Force commander, that the U.N. has had "two recent indications" that the Reds moved jet warplanes into Korea after the July 27 signing in direct violation of armistice terms.

Allied radar has tracked arriving Red planes, Anderson said.

A North Korean pilot who fled to South Korea Monday reported jet and propeller planes were moved into North Korea after the truce.

The young North Korean flier who brought a nearly new, undamaged MIG15 to South Korea Monday vanished from public sight after giving a news conference in Seoul Tuesday. He was believed to be still in the Seoul area, under intense questioning by American intelligence officers.

The North Korean will receive a $100,000 reward for bringing the U.N. Command its first operational MIG.

Will Go To Dayton

The Communist jet was crated Tuesday and loaded aboard a giant C124 cargo plane which took it on the first leg of a trip to the United States.

It will be taken to the Air Materiel Command at Dayton, Ohio, where experts will analyze it.

The Allied Military Armistice Commission said Tuesday that four Americans repatriated in the prisoner exchange were listed, apparently by mistake, among 944 men for whom the Allies Sept. 9 demanded an accounting by the Reds.

The four were not on the list of missing soldiers believed once in captivity which the Defense Department issued in Washington.

Strangled Girl After Quarrel, He Tells Police

UPPER SANDUSKY—A slim, sandy-haired 19-year-old Ohio Wesleyan University sophomore sat silently in his cell at the Wyandot County jail here today after dictating a nine-page confession to the brutal killing of his pretty White Plains, N.Y., sweetheart, Cynthia Pfeil, 19.

Roy R. Schinagle Jr., a clean-cut looking youth from Mayfield Heights, a Cleveland suburb, sobbed out his confession yesterday afternoon after a little over an hour of questioning by Wyandot County Prosecutor Harold Roth and Capt. Justin E. Cornely, Marion police officer who was called in on the case by Roth.

Roth said today that he 'would need time to study the evidence" and he 'is unable to say what charges will be made or when." He said possibly a couple of days would be needed.

This morning the boy was taken back to the Ohio Wesleyan campus, where he said he strangled his pretty 19-year-old sweetheart, to look for a box of the girl's jewelry and clothing which he said he hid to destroy evidence.

Wyandot sheriff's officials said the youth slept some last night and that he had the usual breakfast of coffee and rolls this morning.

The boy appeared to be in a state of shock after he had signed the confession statements yesterday afternoon and again last night. He said he preferred not to see the body or the wooded setting on the deserted Wyandot County road, where he had dumped the girl's body. He was taken directly to a cell. It was nearly midnight Tuesday when the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schinagle Sr., arrived at the Wyandot jail. They talked with their son for about an hour.

Identification Difficult

Identification of the badly beaten young women, found last Friday on a deserted county road about three miles north of Upper Sandusky, was not made until late yesterday. Her face had been mutilated apparently with some blunt instrument. Inquiries about the girl from practically every state in the nation had failed to unravel the mystery of the "red slipper" murder and young Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister had commented that he was "up against a blank wall."

It was her red shoes and some expert police work that led to her identification and later to the apprehension of Schinagle.

A serial number in the shoes was traced from the Columbus firm which manufactured them to a retail store in White Plains, N.Y. White Plains police reported a girl there had been listed as missing since Aug. 24. A photograph of the missing girl — Cynthia Pfeil—was shown clerks in the department store and one of them remembered selling the shoes to the girl Aug. 22—two days before she disappeared.

Begin Hunt for Schinagle

The parents of the girl were questioned. They told authorities they were not sure where their daughter was—that they believed she had gone somewhere in northern Ohio to visit her boy friend.

Police obtained the name of her boy friend yesterday, and imme-

Heartbroken Parents Hear Son Accused

Bewildered Cleveland Couple Makes Trip to Upper Sandusky Jail

CLEVELAND (AP)—A middle-aged couple got out of a cab at their home today after the longest night in their lives. They had been told their only son had murdered his sweetheart.

Electrician Roy Schinagle and his wife, Mildred, were returning from Upper Sandusky where they were permitted to see their son, Roy Jr., 19. Authorities say the youth confessed killing Cynthia Pfeil, 19, of White Plains, N.Y.

While the mother sobbed from a darkened first floor bedroom in the modest frame house at nearby Mayfield Heights, Schinagle paced up and down the living room. He wrung his hands as he talked to a reporter.

"I wonder if we did something wrong in raising him. We didn't pamper him and we got him everything he needed."

Schinagle said police came to his house yesterday evening to tell him his son had been arrested.

"We couldn't believe what they

First Hunting Fatality

Marion County Boy Dies in Gun Mishap

A ten-year-old Marion County boy became the area's first fatality of the hunting season Tuesday afternoon. James E. Krawczyk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Krawczyk of near Prospect, was killed instantly at 6 p.m. when the gun he was carrying on his bicycle fell to the ground and discharged.

Reports of the Marion County sheriff's office indicated the boy was on the bike just leaving the house to go hunting when the gun fell. The gun struck the ground on the butt end, the jolt setting off the firing mechanism. The bullet entered his heart.

THE BOY'S BODY was found 10 feet from the gun and the bicycle 10 feet further on. The sheriff's report added that the boy was forbidden to use the gun which belonged to his older brother, Donald, who is a senior at Prospect school.

The Krawczyk farm is located on Route 4 just south of Newman's Bridge. The boy was on his way to hunt squirrels when the accident happened. Deputy sheriff John Turner was called to investigate the accident at 8 p.m.

Reports indicate the boy went into town to purchase the shells used in the .22 caliber pump-type rifle in violation of a state law which prohibits the buying of shells by anyone under 17 years of age.

THE ACCIDENT happened just one week after the opening of the squirrel hunting season Sept. 15. It was the first hunting accident reported in the Marion area this season.

U.S., British Plan To Delay Korea Debate

Bid To Place Peace Conference Question Last on U.N. Agenda

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain and the United States, together again after their split over Indian attendance at the Korean political conference, laid plans today to throttle any more U.N. debate on the conference until after the parley is supposed to get underway.

The Allied strategy, reportedly supported by the other 14 U.N. members which sent troops to Korea, is to shove any discussion of Korea to last place on the agenda of the U.N.'s 60-nation Political committee.

Well After Oct. 28

That would postpone further U.N. talk about Korea until well after the tentative Oct. 28 starting date for the peace conference.

Such a posptonement would thwart Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky's plans announced yesterday, to revive in the Political Committee his demands that the U.N. discuss Communist China's bid for India and other neutrals to attend the conference.

The fight over more Korean discussion is expected to hit the committee floor as soon as the members' statements of general policy are concluded. These statements are due to be wound up by the end of the week.

The United States bounced an identical Vishinsky demand for Korean debate yesterday in both the steering Committee and the General Assembly. U.S. sources were

75 Blood Donors Needed for Quota

More than 75 volunteers are needed to meet Marion County's quota of 200 donors for the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit here Thursday.

To date only 123 persons have volunteered to give a pint of blood and the Unit is due here at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow. Marion County's quota is 150 pints.

The need for volunteers is urgent, Robert S. Kramer blood program chairman, stated today. At the center in Columbus the supply on hand is so low that only emergency calls can be supplied.

The visit this month is the first since July, the chairman points out, and he is asking those who can to respond to the appeal at this time.

Volunteers are asked to register at the chapter office, 2-1653, and avoid delays.

Tonight Last Chance To Register for Vote

Additional office hours of 7 to 9 p.m. tonight will be observed by the Marion County Board of Elections on the ground floor of the courthouse for the convenience of last-day registrants for voting.

Residents registering Tuesday numbered 47, and number of transfers filed with the board was 63. This brings the total number of county residents registered to date at 19,448.

Tonight at 9 o'clock is the final time that residents may register to be eligible to vote in the November general election.

CYNTHIA PFEIL
Victim of Brutal College Campus Murder

Search for Motive

Many Aspects of Murder Still Puzzle Authorities

By ALFRED C. HALL

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—What, actually, was the motive behind the brutal slaying of pretty Cynthia Pfeil?

What happened actually, in the last hours of life for the 19-year-old White Plains, N.Y. girl who came to Ohio first to go to college and returned to be near a boy she loved?

More than a score of law enforcement officers today puzzled over many of the aspects of the case which came to a climax yesterday with the girl's positive identification and arrest of a suspect in her death.

Summarize Opinions

Generally the investigators who worked on the case had these opinions:

Cynthia Pfeil was very much in love with Roy R. Schinagle Jr., the Ohio Wesleyan ROTC air cadet who Sheriff Dean McAllister says has confessed killing her.

That if a motive can be put under any classification probably it was a crime of passion.

As for the hours leading up to Cynthia's death, officers had only a long statement which Sheriff McAllister said Schinagle made after breaking down and sobbing that he couldn't remember every detail.

Gets Cleveland Job

Roy and Cynthia met at Ohio Weslevan University last year, as freshmen. Later the girl was pledged to Alpa Gamma Delta sorority, and Roy to Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

At the end of their freshman year Cynthia went home to White Plains and Roy to Cleveland. The latter got a summer job with the May Co. department store in the trucking department. Officers said they learned he visited Cynthia in White Plains at least once during the summer.

White Plains police told Wyandot County authorities they knew Cynthia as a nice girl and she had told certain members of the department in August she was pregnant and that her 'boy friend' was very jealous.

On Aug. 22 Cynthia bought a pair of soft red leather slippers at a White Plains store.

Believed She Took Plane

On Aug. 24 she left home. Shortly afterward her mother received a card from her saying in effect she was "on her own" and not to worry about her.

It is believed she took a plane to the Cleveland airport, where

Pleasant Weather Welcomes Autumn

Pleasant weather welcomed in the autumn season at 3:07 a.m. today. Sunny skies with mild temperatures were in evidence over nearly all of the country, The Associated Press reported.

Frost was reported in some sections of the country but none occurred here although near freezing temperatures prevailed during the night. The mercury dropped to just three degrees above freezing. High temperature for yesterday was 62 and the low for last night was 35. A year ago temperatures were a high of 64 and a low of 40.

Home at Last!

Joyous Family Welcomes Gen. Dean in California

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean came home last night three years of Red captivity etched in his tired face and declared:

"I want you to get it out of your heads that I'm a hero—I'm not. I'm just a dog-faced soldier," and

"I feel like a million dollars. I almost sent a challenge to Rocky Marciano,' heavyweight boxing champion.

Hero of Taejon

The tall, erect Medal of Honor winner was given a hero's welcome as his plane landed at this huge air base 40 miles northeast of San Francisco under a brilliant moon.

Dean's part in the Korean War lasted a month in the harrowing summer of 1950 before he was captured. He was awarded the nation's highest military decoration for his valiant last ditch defense of Taejon—in which he battled personally with a bazooka.

An Air Force C97 stratocruiser brought Dean and seven other repatriated American war prisoners into a reception of waiting television and news camera lights and the tenderness of reunion with his family.

The general had been out of the country six years, in Japan and Korea.

Wears No Medals

His wife, Mildred, climbed into the plane and into the general's tight embrace.

Then Dean, smiling self-consciously led her down the ramp.

The 54-year-old general wore no medals or ribbons, only the shoulder patch of his old 24th division.

Near the plane Dean and his

Helps Obtain Confession

Marion's Capt. Cornely Plays Vital Role in Case

Marion Police Captain Justin E. Cornely is credited today with playing an important part in obtaining Roy R. Schinagle's confession of the slaying of Cynthia Pfeil.

Captain Cornely was called into the case at 10 a.m. yesterday morning at the request of Wyandot County Prosecutor Harold Roth. This was before Schinagle was arrested at Ohio Wesleyan University but while Wyandot County Sheriff's deputies were searching for him both in Delaware and Cleveland.

Head of the criminal investigation division of the Marion police department, Captain Cornely was called into the investigation because of Roth's high regard for his work. He had helped the Wy-

Kiwanis Apple Sale Scheduled

'Kids' Day' Project Set Friday, Saturday

Some 80 members of the Marion Kiwanis Club will sell apples in downtown Marion Friday and Saturday as a project to raise money for the benefit of under privileged children in Marion and Marion County.

The men will be on the downtown street corners Friday from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Persons will be asked to donate to help make the project a success. Last year the club raised $1,500 all of which went into the care of the children of families who were not in position to support the price of such necessary things as operations, dental care, and other medical services.

During the last 12 months, 48 children have been helped by the money raised in last year's sale. All money raised from the donations here will be used in the city and county. A special committee, the underprivileged child committee, studies each case thoroughly to determine that the need exists.

While the project is a part of the observance of National Kids' Day observed by Kiwanis Clubs throughout the country, Jack Lautenslager of the local group stresses the fact that each club uses the money it raises to support activities in its own community.

About half the money obtained through the sale last year was turned over to the Children's Home to help redecorate the small boys' dormitory.

Rex H. Robinson is chairman for the underprivileged child committee which supervises the distribution of the funds donated. Other members of the group are Richard H. Brandt, Kelley R. Vance, Dr. N. Sifritt, Frederick W. Rea, and Sol Freed.

In charge of the sale is the projects and promotions committee. Chairman of this body is Ray Reidenbaugh. Working with him are Homer D. Cole, L. K. McGinnis, Roy Abel, Max Birnbaum, C. Ray Campbell, Richard Dune, Ross Jump, and R. E. French.

Dr. Korowicz Reveals:

600,000 in Poland Spy for Red Police

By MORDAUNT HALL

NEW YORK—(NANA) — Dr. Marek Stanislaw Korowicz, of the Polish delegation to the United Nations, who threw up his job and asked asylum in this country last week, said at a conference arranged by the National Committee for a Free Europe that living in Poland is living a lie.

Nobody in his homeland can say what he thinks and, counting the people who are constantly on the watch for anti-Communist remarks, there are some 600,000 persons in the Reds' secret police.

THE FORMER professor of international law at 'Kracow University told newspapermen that few of the top educators are Communists, but that, of 42 assistant professors at his university, only two were non-Communists. Some of the leading professors, he said, were carried by the institution, but were not permitted to teach. All were spied on by the assistant professors.

Asked about the report of the escape of Lavrenti Beria, former police chief of the Soviet Republic, Korowicz said he did not believe it.

He asserted that the enormous majority of Polish people believe that Russia was guilty of the Katyn massacre of Polish officers. He added that the indications of Soviet guilt was absolutely convincing.

DECLARING THAT the Voice of America and Radio Free Europe are raising the morale of the Polish people, he added that there was no doubt a strong Polish underground, but that he could not say anything about it. Any uprising in Poland was impossible, he asserted, for the country would be "drowned in blood."

Dr. Korowicz told of a young woman who expressed an opinion at the July Red Congress and that afterward a man whispered in his ear: "She's a horrible Communist."

Korowicz, knowing the man was a card-carrying Red, reminded him of that fact, whereat, the Communist said: "Don't you know that 90 per cent of the Communist party here are reactionaries?"

BEFORE ANSWERING questions, Dr. Korowicz read a statement in which he said that he wanted to tell the American people about the tragic conditions in his "beloved Poland." He had asked, he said, permission to testify at a public hearing of the House committee on un-American activities. He announced that he had been informed by Rep. Harold Velde that there would be a special meeting of the committee on Thursday morning, at which Dr. Korowicz will answer questions and tell his story.

He also informed the press that as soon as a business in his country was prosperous it was taken over by the Red government. Only retailers without other workers were permitted in business and even they were threatened by the government as soon as their affairs appeared to be successful.

Drought Hits Atomic Plant's Water Supply

Plans Changed When Scioto River Reaches Lowest Level Since '34

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's drought and the polluted condition of her streams have caused the Atomic Energy Commission to modify water supply plans for the vast atomic plant now building in Pike County.

This was revealed today by C. V. Youngquist, chief of the Ohio Division of Water, who has worked closely with AEC officials on their water problems.

One of the reasons the AEC selected Pike County for the plant was its good water supply. But since construction began the situation has changed somewhat.

The plant area is served by the Scioto River. Youngquist said that river's water level is at its lowest point in 35 years, even lower than in 1934, the year of Ohio's worst drought.

The atomic plant will need good, pure water, and lots of it, when it swings into operation. The huge cooling towers and other parts of the cooling system will hold 200 million gallons of water.

This water will be run through the system again and again, but 40 million gallons will be used daily. This means every day 40 million gallons of specially treated water must be added.

The drought has had two effects on the quality of the Scioto River water, which the atomic plant will use.

The growth of algae, microscopic plants, has speeded up because of the low river stage. Algae must be eliminated, because they form a slimy covering inside pipes of the atomic plant's cooling setup.

There's a greater concentration of pollution, both sewage from cities and industrial wastes from industries, because the river is lower.

Youngquist says this means water for the atomic plant must be treated more intensively before it can be used.

Industrial wastes consist mostly of paper mill discharges from plants in Chillicothe and Circleville, upstream on the Scioto, he said.

Waverly, in the heart of the atomic area, has its own public water supply which Youngquist says is adequate now. Piketon has no public supply but plans to build a system later.

EAT ANYTHING WITH FALSE TEETH!

If you have trouble with plates that slip and rock and cause sore gums—try Brimms Plasti-Liner. One application makes plates fit snugly and stay that way, because Brimms Plasti-Liner is a permanent reliner. It relines and refits loose plates in a way no powder or paste can do. Even on old rubber plates you get good results six months to a year or longer. YOU CAN EAT ANYTHING! Simply lay soft strip of Plasti-Liner on troublesome upper or lower. Bite and it molds perfectly. Easy to use, tasteless, odorless, harmless to you and your plates. Removable if desired. Money back if not completely satisfied. Ask your druggist!

Spanish Have Own Version of Beria Rumor

MADRID, Spain (AP)—The Madrid morning newspaper ABC today published a story that Lavrenty Beria parachuted into Spain several days ago—but admitted it did not know whether the story was true.

The Spanish national police chief said officially he knew nothing about the report. Unofficially, he said it was laughable.

"It looks as though Beria will now be replacing the flying saucers," he said.

The Sovereign Ideal

Since one of the functions of the presidency—perhaps its main function—is to voice the aspirations of the people, President Eisenhower has done well to restate one of the enduring hopes of the republic.

He spoke in his Boston speech this week of the "sovereign ideal" He referred to it as a cardinal principle of the Republican party.

"The supreme belief of our society," he declared, "is in the dignity and freedom of the individual. To the respect of that dignity, to the defense of that freedom, all effort is pledged. . . . This sovereign ideal we believe to be the very source of the greatness and genius of America."

President Eisenhower clinched his proposition with the explanation that no individual could be excluded from the sovereign ideal — that all people benefitted equally from it. The statement is significant.

An attempt is under way by the political opposition to revive the political technique of setting class against class. In the years after 1933 this technique was used so ruthlessly by New Dealers that it coincided at times with the doctrine of the Communist party, some of whose members voted with enthusiasm for Democratic candidates.

It is good to know the citizen in the White House is earnestly aware that the sovereign ideal bars class warfare as a weapon in American politics.

No Magic Wands

The world's worst traffic congestion is found on Manhattan Island A volunteer board of New York citizens, indignant because congestion kept getting worse instead of better, has estimated its cost to New Yorkers at a billion dollars a year.

Every city has this same problem to some degree. Traffic congestion wastes fuel, wages and time It blights congested areas and hurts business in such areas. But there is something illogical about complaints that nothing is being done about it.

These complaints are always aimed at public officials. The officials, apparently, are supposed to wave magic wands and make the congestion disappear, preferably without spending any money. When this proves to be impossible, they are accused of non-feasance of duty.

In the meantime, something is being done about traffic congestion. Cities are being decentralized by their own inhabitants. Vast areas beyond their former boundaries are being urbanized as rapidly as private capital can be made available. It is happening in New York and in every other city which has tried to jam too many automobiles into congested areas which cannot be enlarged

The areas can be and will be improved as far as traffic management is concerned, to the extent that private and public capital become available. But traffic is forcing the decentralization of urban functions. Nothing can turn back the clock now.

Friend or Foe

Space travel is a matter of wide conjecture these days.

Yet there is one facet of space travel that never has been discussed. It is a matter for clergymen, educators and philosophers.

If man conquers space, he may find life of some form on other worlds. What will he make of his discovery?

Europeans were little prepared for the problems they were to face when Christopher Columbus discovered a new world in 1492 Men who followed the Genoan to America set about unsystematically to plunder its wealth and destroy its inhabitants.

To this day the American Indian has not recovered from the impact of Columbus' discovery

Man in his planning for space conquest ought to include a blueprint for the conduct of relations with living beings he may encounter

In so doing, he might discover methods of improving human relations right here on planet Earth.

$100,000 Richer

In view of the fact the $100 000 which will be given to Korean pilot who landed a Russian jet plane at Seoul comes out of your pocket, you have a lively interest in the upside-down reasoning behind it.

The original intent was to bribe some weak sister of the Communist conspiracy into delivering a Russian jet plane of the newest design for $100,000.

The plane delivered at Seoul fills the bill. But its pilot did not know there was $100,000 at stake. He merely wanted to close the book on his career as a Communist.

Like many another former servant of the Kremlin's superstate, he is going to clean up handsomely for doing something which should be rewarded with a dignified silence and an air of Christian forgiveness.

Instead, he is going to get a reward handsome even for capitalism, though he did nothing intentionally to earn it It's little wonder that some obscure workers in the vineyard of freedom are wondering if the only way to strike it rich any more is to be a former Communist.

Strong on Sincerity

By David Lawrence

Ike Lacks Traits of Personal Spellbinder

Woodrow Wilson used to say that there were two kinds of public speeches that a president could deliver—the explicit and the implicit. He preferred the latter.

Evidently President Eisenhower agrees, for the address he gave at Boston, standing by itself, means less than what will be read into it.

As a political speech, it was probably ineffective. As an essay on politics, it contains a truth and a sincerity of expression and purpose which, coming from so earnest and devoted a public servant as Dwight Eisenhower, will carry more weight with the public than the same platitudes uttered by someone else.

The address is a curious one Nothing quite like it can be recalled by this correspondent.

There have been many speeches which were over the heads of listeners, but there have not been many that didn't concentrate on a few simple points and make those points clear.

Mr. Eisenhower was heralded as having begun an inspiration campaign to help build the prestige of the Republican party and to aid the members of Congress in their 1954 campaign.

Students of political science and political history may regard it as sufficiently academic, but this is not the kind of speech that begets votes or gives the party worker the stimulus to zealous activity.

In brief, Mr. Eisenhower's speech shows the effects of a desperate effort to cover too many precepts and to fashion them into something that can be called Republican party principle. But in doing this, the speech itself argues vehemently against consistency and boasts that nothing that has happened in the past "is conclusively clear and binding upon us today"

First and foremost, the speech sets out to prove that the Republican party is not opposed to change This is a piece of defensive strategy which recognizes the criticism that the Republicans want to stand pat. Thus the President remarks:

"We are the political captives of no class or section or interest of our country—and we are the prisoners of no static political or economic dogmas ruling our decisions"

This is rather a broad claim of flexibility for any political party to make.

It leaves little room for loyalty to principle or basic doctrine. It certainly ignores many historic achievements of the Republican party of the last 100 years.

The President seemed to be floundering — his unfamiliarity with his own party tradition seemed to project itself from many a lumbering paragraph. Thus he says

"This is the kind of America—and the kind of Republican party—in which I believe. I do not know how to define it with political labels Such labels are, in our age, cheap and abundant. But they mean as little as they cost.

"We are many things. We are liberal—for we do believe that, in judging his own daily welfare, each citizen, however humble, has greater wisdom than any government, however great.

"We are progressive — for we are less impressed with the difficulties we observed yesterday than the opportunities we envision tomorrow.

"We are conservative — for we can conceive of no higher commission that history could have conferred upon us than that which we humbly bear — the preservation, in this time of tempest and of peril, of the spiritual values that alone give dignity and meaning to man's pilgrimage on earth."

Those are definitions that are hard to grasp For one could easily interchange the paragraphs and put them opposite a different label and they still might be acceptable as a generality applicable to any creed of politics or party.

The speech is hard to follow in print. It sounds impressive in radio and television because of the personality who speaks the lines.

A very small percentage of 5,000,000 voters probably will understand just what the President meant, for instance, when he said: "We have opposed the confusion of loyalty with conformity, and all misguided attempts to convert freedom into a privilege licensed by censors."

One might hope that a sentence like that would be followed by an explicit example. Otherwise, it is left dangling in the stratosphere as a piece of political ambiguity in which the platform writers lose themselves.

It is reminiscent of the ponderous vocabulary of a Harding. It is far removed from the ghost-written speeches of Franklin Roosevelt.

What they need at the White House is either a new ghost writer or a course in practical politics.

Explanation for Sybil

By TRUMAN TWILL

An Irish fashion designer named Sybil Connolly has been making a splash in the manufacturing marts of ladies ready - to - wear. If she keeps on saying things like this, she may make a splash in 20th century sociology:

"The most wonderful thing I have seen in America is its family life . . . The women here are much better mothers and housekeepers than those in Ireland, where even low-income housewives have at least one maid, and where the wife and mother doesn't have to lift her hand unless she wants to."

This gal Sybil has noticed something that not even the homegrowns have evaluated properly.

There has been some spoofing about the labor - saving devices which make it possible for American women to do their own washing and cleaning, instead of having it done for them But it is no spoofing matter that housework is being done faster and better in this country than it ever was done before

And it is no spoofing matter that millions of housewives are performing miracles of organization which never would have been possible at a time when merely cooking oatmeal for breakfast used to be an all-night project.

What happened was that men grew tired of seeing women fuss and fumble their lives away doing everything the hard way Men invented a lot of household gadgets to keep women from being bogged down in their own ineptitude.

The monthly installments on the gadgets were easier to pay than the wages of a lot of inefficient female help Moreover, the electric cleaners, washing machines, mangles, dishwashers and irons were always there when needed and couldn't get gossipy

That, Sybil, is how this wonderful thing happened — this thing which makes you exclaim about the way American women raise their families and run their homes with little or no domestic help and seemingly with such little effort

It was something American men did in self defense because they were too chicken to face a lifetime of getting along with housekeepers, wash women, women who did ironing, women who did cleaning and women who just did general housework

All these specialists are still needed and are still in great demand. But millions of women now do with a flip of the switch what formerly was done at great length and with much muttering and gossiping by armies of household employes In most parts of the world, it's still done that way

Even in America you may still hear someone with ideas held over from the Coolidgian era yearn for the old days when outsiders had to be brought into families to help harrassed housewives keep things from going to bad to worse. But most of the outsiders who once would have washing dishes and poking at grime with feather dusters for a living now are meeting the installments on their own dishwashing machines and vacuum cleaners.

That, Sybil, is the way it is That's America's sociological and economic design, which is as advanced in its way as the trick stuff you are said to be turning out. Except when you design something, everybody gives you credit for originality, whereas when it's done on a larger scale it's taken for granted

That's something else you will have to understand about America before you can get the hang of its over-all plan — that no one here sees anything important about doing something which is astonishing to people who never have seen it done before here sees anything important about doing something which is astonishing to people who never have seen it done before.

GOP Eyes Benson and 1954 Elections

By Jay G. Hayden

While reports last week that Secretary Benson soon will be forced to resign were unequivocably denied at President Eisenhower's Denver headquarters, there is no mistaking that, since the departure of Secretary Durkin, Benson is the cabinet member most hotly beset.

The reason is that between now and the 1954 congressional election, new farm price-support legislation must be enacted.

Benson, up to now, has seemed at loggerheads with a majority of congressmen of his own party from the farm belt, increasingly alarmed over their re-election prospects.

While Benson has not yet reduced his ideas to concrete legislation, he has left no doubt that he believes the present hard and fast 90 per cent of government parity support of prices on selected farm commodities is disastrous both for taxpayers and farmers.

He had been in office less than a month when he stirred up a mighty furor by asserting that farm-price supports should be used as "disaster insurance" and not to "encourage uneconomic production" resulting in "continuing heavy surpluses and subsidies."

More recently he has said that due, to government supports, U.S farm commodities were being priced out of world markets.

After Benson delivered an ultimatum of no price support for wheat unless 1954 acreage was cut 20 per cent, wheat farmers voted heavily for that reduction

Cotton farmers are expected to vote on the same issue before their next planting.

All farm organizations excepting the left-wing Farmers Union favor abolition of the present rigid 90 per cent of parity and substitution of a sliding scale, varying on a basis of production.

But a congressional majority, scared of the farm voters, has balked every attempt to make that change.

Legislators from the wheat and corn belts, predominantly Republican, are especially alarmed now because farm prices have trended downward and crop surpluses upward during the past year.

Specifically, at the end of last August, wholesale prices of farm products averages 6½ per cent lower than on 1952 election day

There is the circumstance also that the only time previously in the last 20 years when Republicans controlled Congress they were turned out largely on account of farm discontent.

Just ahead of election in 1948, the Republicans passed the Hope-Aiken bill which, while maintaining 90 per cent of parity price support through the following 1949 crop year, ordered a 60 to 90 per cent sliding scale beginning on Jan. 1, 1950.

President Truman made this action his main point of appeal for re-election among rural voters, with result that he reversed enough normally Republican farm states to give him the victory

In 1949, the new Democratic Congress advanced the 90 per cent of parity stop date and repeated that postponement up to and including 1953.

Barring new action by Congress, however, the 60 to 90 per cent sliding scale will take effect on the 1954 crop

In his election campaign, President Eisenhower promised that existing price supports would be maintained through 1953, but beyond that he remains uncommitted.

The stake in next year's election is self-evident. In six mid-West corn and hog states—Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Missouri and Minnesota—the Republicans in 1952 suffered a net loss of two House seats, despite heavy Eisenhower majorities in all of them.

With Eisenhower missing from the ballot, there is fear that other Republican congressmen from the Mid-West will bite the dust. The farm issue, of course, is important in many other states, stretching from New York to California.

Because very few of their senators from close farm states are up for re-election, the Republican prospect as to that body is much better. But the attitude of farm voters will decide whether a number of present Democratic senators are to be re-elected from states which went heavily for Eisenhower.

In the latter category are Douglas of Illinois, Anderson of New Mexico, Gillette of Iowa, Humphrey of Minnesota, Hunt of Wyoming, Johnson of Colorado, and whoever Gov. Lausche appoints to succeed the late Sen. Taft. Douglas, Gilette, Humphrey and Hunt are first termers swept in on the same 1948 tide of farmer votes that re-elected Truman.

The Republicans fully expect to gain the two seats necessary to continue and make safe their control of the Senate

But as to the House, there is no such Republican confidence. At last count the House line-up was 221 Republicans, 210 Democrats, no Independent and three vacancies.

A Little Nostalgia

By MARK DANA

A slight tear, at least from old-timers, over the fire-destruction of the old Ideal Studios building, on the Palisades of the Hudson in New Jersey, where some of the first motion pictures were made, might not be amiss

Some people can remember back as far as 1898 when this structure was built It was first used by Vitagraph, which later became Warner Bros., and by the time some of the "Perils of Pauline" thrillers were shot in this historic structure people thought the movies had reached their zenith, indeed

Then Mary Pickford came along, and a new zenith apparently was reached. Somewhere along the line there was Charles Bunny, the fat comic, and a person doesn't have to be old today to remember him. When this Ideal Studios building was in its own zenith, so to speak, movie theaters (some of them converted barns and warehouses) had only one projector each.

Audiences were accustomed to slides flashed on the screen at intervals, like "Just a Moment While We Change the Reel," "Those who came in Late may Remain to see the Films's Beginning" "Do Not Spit on the Floor"

Gracious, but those were far-away days, with slapstick comedy films run off at lightning speed, jerky and with fantastic subtitles—for of course there was no sound until Al Jolson's "Jazz Singer" appeared, and of course by that time Hollywood had been born and was quite a lusty infant, too

There are people still living here who saw some of the quivering and streaked and non-subtle dramas photographed in this ancient structure which has closed its own chapter An era began then. A cycle started to revolve, and is still turning Sometimes we wonder if it isn't whirling too fast for old-time comforts

From Our Readers

To the Star:

Are the Democrats in Marion going to stand by and see another Republican name chiseled on another building in our town. It's about time a famous and well-loved Democrat had that honor in Marion.

There is Harding High School, Edison Junior High School, Lincoln Park, McKinley Park, Garfield Park. Now to top it off — Robert A. Taft Junior High School Anyone would think that Democrats were extinct in this city

Does anyone know what Taft ever did for the education of your child or mine? Nothing! He voted NO on practically every proposal for aid to the schools. Did he send his children to public schools? No again! Public schools weren't good enough.

If Robert A. Taft is going to have a public school named in his honor, then Marion might just as well go all out and rename State Street, Hoover Avenue, and change the city's name to McCarthyville

Come on Democrats! Arise and be heard It's about time something was named in honor of Frankin Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman or Woodrow Wilson.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Rita Gets an Offer of Help

Dear Rita Hayworth Well, I have been reading all about those threats against you and how you are forced to travel with armed strong-arm guards and I am very nervous over your welfare. I hope things have quieted down and you will not need the Army and Navy.

A situation such as you being in danger of aggression could halt all Pentagon economy steps, make the cold war hot again and defeat all efforts to reduce draft quotas.

I know a kid who got his draft summons yesterday and his first question was:

"Well, war is war and if Rita Hayworth needs me I am ready." He even talked of volunteering if your situation got really desperate and America had to come to your aid without the full support of England and France and with India, the Argentine and Iran abstaining.

You are having so much trouble, according to the press releases and photographs, that your case needs pressing at the present session of the United Nations and I am suggesting to Secretary Dulles and Henry Cabot Lodge that they get you and Aly Khan and the kiddies on the agenda. If there is room they could even get the lawyers on, and maybe a reasonable number of publicity agents

One of the troubles with U.N. is that it lacks glamor, color and sex appeal.

It does not do too well with the tabloids. You could be its salvation, Rita. You have what it takes to focus attention, command the spotlight, make the front pages and get action fast.

Television ignores the U.N. sessions except in extra big moments, and even then it only allows little things like world peace to take more than 45 minutes' time away from the soap operas and hints on how to bake apple pies.

It seems that brotherly love and better understandings haven't quite color enough to hold TV fans The delegates don't seem to have the photogenic appeal of people on the video panels and quiz programs.

With you on the agenda, Rita, WOW! You and your troubles with Aly Khan, anonymous letter writers and people who would deport Dick Haymes would put Korea, Red China, Germany, Austria and Trieste into the background and give the people something they could really understand with fascination

Well, anyhow, I hope the guards are guarding you well and I will not ask who is guarding the guards, as it is none of my business. All I hope is that nobody really wants to harm a hair of your head and that the threats are meaningless. The Riviera joins me in this hope.

Nevertheless I am sincere when I say I would like to see the United Nations put your troubles on the agenda. Even Vishinsky might turn peaceful.

Love and kisses,
Elmer

The defeat of Mayor Impellitteri in the New York primary was due, in this column's opinion, to the 15-cent subway fare. . . The question whether he had much to do with it or not didn't matter, a lot of voters voted against him with the feeling they were putting a "This door not working" sign between him and another term in the city.

Defense Spending Key Issue

Peace Muddle Hampers Administration's Plans

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Money problems ride the back of the Eisenhower administration which would like to keep campaign promises by balancing the budget, cutting taxes and spending enough for defense, all at the same time.

Its dilemma would be simplified if it could predict with certainty what to expect from Russia and Red China for then, if the prediction was peace, it could cut defense spending, the biggest item of expense.

But because of the uncertainty about the Communists, complicated by their progress with the hydrogen bomb, the administration may feel now it must move cautiously on defense cuts That will make tax-cutting and budget-balancing tougher.

That the administration is concerned about cutting defense spending was made clear enough yesterday by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey who said in a speech.

"The great and really important reason, however, why it is most difficult to cut expenditures radically and bring both a balanced budget and a tax reduction into quick being at the same time relates to our national security.

"Without due consideration for it, the rapid reduction of expenses would be comparatively easy. But with the real possibility of an atomic Pearl Harbor hanging directly over our heads, and with the knowledge of the Russian capability to produce an even more potent weapon, national security is a matter of first concern."

In this same speech in which he put national defense ahead of economy, Humphrey said flatly the administration will not try to prevent the excess profits tax ending, and individual income taxes dropping 10 per cent, Dec 31.

They had been scheduled to take effect on that date by Congress and the Eisenhower administration couldn't prevent that happening unless it got Congress to pass a law continuing them.

And, since Congress is not in session, no change could be made without calling the lawmakers back into special session. And they almost certainly wouldn't heed the administration on those two taxes, anyway.

But Humphrey did not say the administration wouldn't try to block two other tax changes scheduled, also by previous action of Congress, for a few months later.

For one April 1 the normal tax on corporations is due to go down five percentage points and some excise taxes end or drop. These changes go into effect when Congress is here for its 1954 session The administration might try to get Congress to reverse itself then.

The four tax changes just listed will mean a loss of around eight billion dollars in revenue for the government in the fiscal year starting next July 1, a year in which the administration had hoped to balance the budget.

In his speech yesterday Humprey did not say the administration would not try to get Congress to approve some kind of new tax to make up for the loss of all or some of that money.

He had said previously the administration was considering various way of getting additional revenue, including a national sales tax, although it is questionable that Congress, in a congressional election year, would vote a sales tax

No matter what the administration has in mind about taxes at least the kind of speech Humphrey made yesterday prepares the country for what the administration eventually does.

President Eisenhower himself in a speech two days ago used a sentence which might signify much or nothing but still kept the thought of taxes high in the mind of the country. He said:

"There is no sacrifice—no labor, no tax, no service—too hard for us to bear to support a logical and necessary defense of our freedom."

On successive days the President and the secretary of the Treasury emphasized defense over economy, which might mean there should be no surprise if the budget isn't balanced next year, as the administration had hoped.

Annual Soap Box Derby Financed by Lions Club Bazaar

Football and other fall and winter sports have shoved the Soap Box Derby out of the limelight for most folks but not for the Marion Lions Club, sponsors of the annual event.

With the 1954 Derby in mind, the members are making every effort to make their annual bazaar to be staged Thursday, Friday and Saturday, a huge success. This year's three-day event will be held in the art hall at the Marion Fairgrounds.

Between 60 and 70 Marion boys enter the annual Soap Box Derby. However, the sponsors explain, this does not mean that only this number are interested When the boys start building their racing cars, they become a community project with boys in the neighborhood lending a hand and helping with suggestions for making a perfect car. It follows without telling that when the race is run all are on hand to see how their special car rates.

The Soap Box Derby has been a project of the Lions Club for the past seven years. Initial investment was $1,500 for a ramp, and the club spends between $500 and $600 to stage the race which draws thousands of spectators to the "track" each year.

As in former years the club is enlisting the support of the community for the bazaar, the proceeds of which will assure boys of Marion a bigger and better Derby.

How Cuticura Clears Acne Pimples*

without one single case of skin allergy resulting!

Following a 10-year investigation of 587 men, women and adolescents, a prominent Harvard and Johns Hopkins doctor discovered that "the only agent which produced not one case of skin allergy and aided in the clearing up of the acne"—was CUTICURA SOAP combined with CUTICURA OINTMENT.

Proof positive! This revelation is further confirmed by the written testimonies of hundreds of doctors—certain leading hospitals, and by the testimonies of countless thousands of grateful men, women, boys and girls.

Cuticura Ointment is Successful—because it is mildly, scientifically medicated with SULPHURATED PETROLATUM, OXYQUINOLINE and CHLOROPHYLL, ingredients which soften and soothe as they help heal.

Cuticura Soap is Important—because it is the only leading soap that is superfatted. And superfatted soap, experts say, is the gentlest, least drying, best soap for your skin. What's more, Cuticura soap is fragrant, hard milled, mildly medicated, gives you extra skin care, is long-lasting, truly economical.

Lovelier Skin In 7 Days! Cuticura Soap and Ointment never "starve" or dry up your skin. Instead, as blackheads, excess oiliness and externally caused pimples are cleared up, your skin is improved. Usually in just 7 days you begin to see new dewy freshness, radiant new tone, enchanting loveliness you've always dreamed of! See for yourself. WCTU Sees Good Chance To Bring Back Prohibition

DENVER (AP)—Delegates to the 73rd annual convention of the Colorado W.C.T.U., yesterday were told by national and state officials that prohibition may return to the nation sooner than anyone expects.

Said Mrs. Fred J. Tooze, Evanston, Ill., national recording secretary:

"The huge advertising campaigns by liquor interests are beginning to boomerang. Many people are becoming terribly concerned about the effect on young people, who have liquor presented to them as desirable through both ear and eye.

"They're protesting."

A Continental Army manual written by Baron von Steuben cautioned soldiers against "vexing the inhabitants" near their camps.

POW 33 Months Sees TV for His First Time

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—"Now what is this?" inquired Capt. Millard Butler of his wife as they walked into their home here.

"It's our television set," the wife explained.

"It's all new to me," the captain said. "I've never seen a TV set before."

He was just home from 33 months in a Chinese Red prison.

4-H Club News

Prospect Dairy 4-H Club met at the home of Paul Rogers for the September meeting. The time was spent discussing fair projects. Plans were made to visit the bull farm at Tiffin soon. The October meeting will be at the home of Tom Issler.

U.S. Seeking New Jet Speed Record

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The United States is going after Britain's new world jet speed record of 727.6 miles an hour.

The Times says the Navy tentatively plans an assault on the mark next Tuesday with the Douglas F4D Skyray interceptor at the Salton Sea or Edwards Air Force Base, both in Southern California.

But, said the Times today, Lt. Col. Pete Everest of Edwards AFB flight test center is making test runs over the Salton Sea in a North American F100 super Sabre and "if his speeds top the English record they will be announced as unofficial marks just prior to the Navy's forthcoming assault."

The British record was set by RAF squadron leader Neville Duke Sept. 7.

March 21 and Sept. 21—when days and nights are of equal length—are called the spring and fall equinoxes.

Warning Tickets Issued By Police in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police are sticking a new kind of ticket on parked cars here. It reads:

"You have not violated a traffic ordinance. But you have jeopardized your own property right by leaving valuables in plain sight in your automobile.

If your property had been sighted by a thief instead of a policeman . . . you would probably be put to far more expense than if you received a dozen parking tickets.

"Please co-operate with the police department in protecting your property!"

Records show about 300 cases of automobile trespassing a month in Cleveland.

Employees of the Interior Department may not hold any interest in lands administered by the department's Bureau of Land Management, except for five-acre homesites if they live in Alaska.

Cost of Living Still Soaring, Hits New High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher food prices and rents pushed the government's cost of living index to a record high mark today.

The rise to 115 per cent of the 1947-1949 average means a three-cent hourly wage boost, effective next month, for 1,300,000 rail workers.

This will boost annual pay roll costs of the railroads by 100 million dollars.

The index figure announced today records living costs as of Aug. 15. It advanced three-tenths of one per cent from the month previous.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said beef and veal prices went up six per cent—the largest increase for these meats in any single month in more than five years.

This increase, coupled with smaller rises in other food costs, pushed the food index up three-tenths of one per cent.

Rents advanced 1 1 per cent during the month Federal rent controls expired July 31.

On that date, 16 of 46 major cities surveyed for the monthly cost of living index stil had federal rent controls.

Death Sentence Mandatory

Slayers Convicted, Face California Gas Chamber

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The deadly gas chamber of San Quentin prison looms today for convicted killers Barbara Graham, John A. Santo and Emmett Perkins.

After 5½ hours of deliberating, a jury yesterday found the much married Mrs. Graham and her two gangsters pals guilty of the first degree murder of 62-year-old widow, Mrs. Mabel Monahan.

There was no recommendation for clemency, and California law thus makes the death penalty mandatory.

Sentencing Due Friday

Mrs. Graham, 30, and the two men face sentencing at 9 a. m. Friday, but a defense counsel move for a new trial may delay it.

The brutal beating and garroting of crippled Mrs. Monahan in her Burbank home last March 9 will make Mrs. Graham the third woman to go to California's gas chamber, barring a successful appeal. Previously executed at San Quentin were Eithel Spinelli in 1941 and Mrs. Louise Peete in 1947.

The state contended the gang, led by Santo, sought $100,000 believed hidden there by Mrs. Monahan's former son-in-law, Las Vegas gambler Luther Scherer.

Santo, 48, and Perkins, 44, also have been linked to northern California crimes, including the mass murder of grocer Guard Young and three small children in Chester last October.

Last night in Nevada City, Calif., Santo and Perkins were charged with murdering Ed Hanson, Nevada county miner shot to death in a 1950 robbery attempt.

Show Little Emotion

The trio took the verdict with little show of emotion, other than the tears that welled in Barbara's eyes. She whispered:

"As long as they've found me guilty, I'd rather have the death penalty than life imprisonment."

Perkins snarled, "it's phony all the way through."

Santo refused to comment but later told a newsman, "I'm innocent and I'm confident the (state) supreme court will reverse the verdict."

MRS. BARBARA GRAHAM

The conviction after a five-week trial came as no surprise. The prosecution's case was anchored to the eyewitness testimony of John True, member of the gang who turned state's evidence. True was backed by William Upshaw, another former Santo associate.

True's testimony was that he saw Mrs. Graham pistol-whipping the helpless Mrs. Monahan.

Mrs. Graham, married four times and mother of three children, has a record beginning with reform school commitment at 18, followed by arrests on charges of prostitution, perjury, narcotics possession and passing bad checks.

Santo and Perkins are ex-convicts with felony records going back to 1924.

said happened. Later we talked to Roy and he said he went haywire. He went to church Sunday and prayed. He said he felt better and planned to give himself up."

The electrician said his son wanted to marry Miss Pfeil.

Broken Romance

"We liked her, but we didn't think they should get married until Roy got out of school. Then she wrote him that it was all over, that she had found another friend."

Schinagle said his son wanted to be a major league ball player, but was planning either to teach or to enter the ministry if that didn't work out.

"He was captain of his high school team. I used to hit balls to him evenings in the field out back."

The father pointed to a laundry case just inside the front door.

We just bought that for Roy and were going to hand it to him."

to meet the boy and accompany him on the hunting trip.

County Coroner, Dr. E. H. Morgan ruled the death was accidental and caused by a gun shot wound in the chest.

authorities said she was to have been met by Schinagle. Cynthia got a job in a Cleveland department store, taking, for some unknown reason, an assumed name. She lived in a Maple Heights boarding house in Cleveland with another girl. Roy was working in the trucking department of the local store and investigators said they learned they met a number of times.

Late last Wednesday Cynthia took a bus to Delaware, and officers said Roy met her there.

From that point on, officers had only Schinagle's story to guide them over the hours before Cynthia's beaten and disfigured body was found in a woods, not far from a county road, near here. She was attired only in a flannel nightgown and the pair of red slippers.

In Schinagle's story there were many puzzles, officers admitted. They were to tackle these today, take Roy back over the route between a shack on a Ohio Wesleyan football practice field in Delaware County, and the spot in the woods where the body was found in Wyandot County, some 40 miles away.

Here were the principal parts of Schinagle's statement as reported by Sheriff McAllister:

He and the girl had a "rendezvous" Thursday night, Sept. 17, on the old football practice field at Delaware. A lover's quarrel developed. Cynthia slapped him. He strangled her, left the scene for 15 minutes, returned and placed her and some of her belongings in his car. He drove north toward Upper Sandusky, stopping twice and shaking her to see if she was conscious. At least once, he told the sheriff, he heard her moan.

Somewhere along the way he stopped and got an iron rod. Upon arrival near the spot where the body was found, he told authorities he pushed her from the car, carried her into the woods and there beat her with the rod. He left her there, her face disfigured by many wounds, and returned to Delaware, discarding some of her clothing as he went along.

What the girl was doing in a nightgown in a field near an almost uninhabitable shack on the lonely football field — what weapons actually were used in her slaying and their present whereabouts—these and more questions authorities would not answer for newsmen, or say whether they knew the answers.

C. & O. Train Schedule Will Be Changed Sunday

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway announced today that the ending of Daylight Saving Time in many areas of the nation will result in a change of time schedule of its Sportsman passenger train. The schedules are being changed because of new connecting times with trains of other railroads.

Effective Sunday at 12:01 a.m. Train No. 47, the Sportsman, now leaving Marion at 3:05 a.m., northbound, will leave at 3:30 a.m. Departure of the southbound Sportsman, No. 46, will be at the same time, 9:25 p.m. Robert H. Stief, passenger agent at the Union Station, reports.

Ohioan Heads U.S. Bankers

Elect Everett Reese Of Newark President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Bankers Association today elected Everett D. Reese of Newark, Ohio, to its presidency. Atlantic City, N. J., was chosen for the next convention, Oct. 27-20, 1954.

Reese, president of the Park National Bank of Newark, Ohio, succeeds W. Harold Benton of Des Moines.

Homer J. Livingston, president and director of the First National Bank of Chicago, was elected vice president, the post vacated by Reese. Livingston thus came into line for election to the presidency at next year's 80th annual convention.

Other officers were to be named later.

In prepared remarks of acceptance, Reese called upon his fellow bankers to "provide financial leadership of the highest type and help to inculcate a clear understanding of the sound principles of money and finance."

Police, Patrol Report Four Auto Mishaps

Four no-injury accidents were reported today in Marion County. Three were handled by city police and the other was investigated by state patrolmen from the Marion post.

At 7:06 p.m. Tuesday, a Marion Transit bus driven by Floyd J. Tackett, 27, of 260 Latourette St. struck a parked car in front of 803 Ballentine Ave. The left rear tail light of the car was damaged. The car was owned by J. William Wolfinger of 437 Cherry St. No damage was reported done to the bus.

Another Marion Transit bus was involved in an accident on W. Center St. in front of Hotel Harding Tuesday at 3:48 p.m. The bus, which was driven by Walter H. Christian, also of 260 Latourette St. was stopped alongside a parked car owned by Miss Viola Rinnert of 321 Belmont St. According to the police report, Miss Rinnert opened the right door of her car, striking the bus. The right side of the car was damaged and damage was done to the left rear fender of the bus.

A parked car was damaged Tuesday morning at 10:30 when struck by a driverless car which rolled out of a parking lot at W. Church St. near Orchard St.

The police report indicates the car, owned by Lew W. Shadaker of 375 Park Blvd., was damaged in the right rear end. It was struck by a car owned by Leland Watson of 487 Park St. which rolled backward out of the Danner Buick parking lot and struck the other car.

The rolling car tore down some fencing in the parking lot. The right rear and right side of the car were damaged.

Route 23 Crash Listed

One accident was reported by state patrolmen from the Marion post today. At 12:15 this morning, two cars collided on U. S. Route 23 about two miles south of Marion corporation limits.

William Franklin Smith, 41, of near Marengo told investigating patrolmen he slowed down to make a turn off the highway when his car was struck in the rear by one driven by Kenneth Allen Cook, 21 of near Ashley.

Moderate damage was done to Smith's car, but the front end of Cook's car was damaged extensively. Cook was cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday to answer a charge of unsafe operation.

Although Britain originally supported the view that neutrals should be represented at the peace parley, her delegation now takes the position that the question has been settled the other way by Assembly vote and that there is no point in reopening debate.

Both British and Americans appeared relieved they were once more united in fighting the Soviet Union here instead of battling each other.

Chief U. S. Delate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. suggested yesterday that once the conference opens, its members can decide for themselves whether they want to invite neutrals.

He also said the United States was willing to send a representative to talk face-to-face with the Chinese Communists and North Koreans on details of time and place for the conference. Lodge said the United States made this offer to emphasize its desire to get the meeting underway on schedule.

Scout Member Drive Planned

'Fall Roundup' Set To Begin on Thursday

A three - month membership drive will be kicked off by the Harding Area Boy Scout Council at a meeting Thursday at Camp Owens.

Called a Fall Roundup, the campaign will carry a western theme From Thursday until Dec. 31 troops, packs and explorer units as well as Scout leaders in the council will be complete with Western lingo, atmosphere and sheriff badges.

At the kick-off meeting, units will sign a paper, stating how many new boys they expect to bring in by the Dec. 31 date. James Teitelbaum, neighborhood commissioner, will be in charge of the kickoff meeting at which time an explanation of the roundup program will be given. Membership certificates, program notebooks and council and district calendars will be handed out.

Every registered adult in Scouting and their husbands or wives are urged to attend the meeting. Following the business session, there will be refreshments and square dancing at 9 p.m. Hugh Johnston will be caller for the dance. John Teetor, neighborhood commissioner, will be in charge of refreshments.

Special frying pans will be awarded each unit successfully reaching its quota and a leather hide award will go to the troop, pack and explorer unit which reaches the highest percentages of increase in membership. District committeemen, executive board members and commissioners will aid each unit in planning and carrying out individual roundup plans.

During the three-month period each unit in the council will be known as a "ranch" in the Harding "range," each unit leader, committeeman, den mother and assistant leader will be a "rancher," with all having appropriate badges, and cubs, Scouts and explorers will wear "sheriff's badges" designating them as cowhands." Each new boy joining the cubs will be known as a "maverick" and Scouts bringing in the new members will receive badges with "I roped one" on it.

wife were joined by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dean. He held both women tightly.

A few feet further on, the general's daughter, Mrs. June Williams, flew into his open arms. Then came others—19 relatives in all.

Dean's son-in-law, Army Capt. Robert Williams, stepped up with his son, Robert Dean Williams, 2½, a grandson the general never had seen.

Dean took the tow-headed boy in his arms, hugged him and kissed him.

Mrs. Dean was almost overcome.

"You can't talk about a thing like this," she said, tears streaming down her face. "There just aren't words."

Feels Very Humble

The General went into the jammed terminal loby.

"I am overwhelmed by this welcome. It makes me feel very humble and unworthy," he spoke firmly into a microphone.

"I want everyone to understand that I'm not a hero. I was unfortunately a prisoner of war and that is nothing to be proud of. It was an unfortunate circumstance.

"Other prisoners of war had it much tougher than me, I'm sure. . . . They told me about the real heroes. . . ."

Dean named man after man, foot soldiers and fliers. He praised them highly for their unceasing resistance to Communist pressure.

"I could go on and on," he added. "They didn't break down."

Applause thundered in the hot crowded lobby.

TWO DRIVERS ARRESTED

Police reported this morning the citing of two motorists to answer charges of speeding. One was arrested Tuesday night. The other person was stopped this morning. A 17-year-old Marion youth was cited to appear before the juvenile officer this afternoon after he was stopped on E. Center St. and charged with speeding at 10:30 last night. Carson L. Ross of 248 N. State St. was given a citation at 6:22 this morning. His appearance in Municipal Court was scheduled for Saturday morning.

Baumgardner Case Recalled

Disappearance of Co-Ed Still Unsolved

Disappearance and ultimate slaying of Cynthia Pfeil, former Ohio Wesleyan University coed, reminded many persons of a similar disappearance of an OWU coed 16 years ago.

Sometime during the night of May 4, 1937, pretty Ruth Elizabeth Baumgardner of Lakewood, a senior, vanished from her third floor room in a university dormitory.

She said goodnight to other girls on the third floor of Austin Hall, stepped into her room and was never seen again.

A nationwide search followed in which public and private investigations tracked down false clews to her whereabouts. The 22-year-old girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, then of Lakewood, offered a $500 reward for information of her whereabouts, all to no avail.

Closest the investigation ever came to finding her was two days after her disappearance when two Zanesville women reported seeing a girl hitchhiking north out of Zanesville with a "collegiate" looking youth. Their description of the girl almost exactly fit that of Miss Baumgardner. However, all investigations of the report met a dead-end. Nowhere north of Zanesville could detectives find any trace of the girl or her companion.

As the months wore into years hundreds of tips were received by the investigators and more than 10,000 miles were covered in fruitless efforts to find clews.

University officials had told the investigators that Miss Baumgardner was absent from chapel for seven consecutive days and said they believed she may have been worried about something. It was never established what she may have been worried about or if this had anything to do with her disappearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgardner now live in Bay Village, O.

Cornely

andot County prosecutor in a number of other cases.

Among these was the Wyandot County "dynamite murder" of May, 1952 in which Karl Kwinem, alias Karl Stone, 38-year-old Cleveland filling station operator, was brutally killed. Cornely was instrumental in establishing the identity of the mangled body and assisted Wyandot County officials in their investigation of the case.

More recently, he played an important role in the investigation of the July 6 kidnaping of a 12-year-old Wyandot County girl by ex-convict Raymond Doss of Marion near her home near Nevada.

Breaks Down After Hour

In the day-long questioning of Schinagle in the Wyandot County sheriff's office yesterday, Cornely and Roth talked to Schinagle for nearly an hour before he admitted the slaying of his college sweetheart, Cornely said today. The questioning began when Schinagle was taken to the Wyandot County sheriff's office at 2:30 p.m. yesterday and lasted for about an hour when the first statement was obtained. Schinagle was then returned to his cell and was not questioned again until 9 p.m. when he talked to Cornely and Roth for three hours until midnight and "gave a full confession of the slaying," according to Cornely.

Marion Police Chief Tom Coon, in praising Cornely's work said he relies on his knowledge of interrogation procedures in obtaining confessions from suspects. This means the skillful questioning of the suspect and an attempt to catch him in a misstatement or falsehood. Once the suspect is caught up by his own words, Cornely confronts him with this and other evidence available in an attempt to bring out a confession.

Caught in Misstatements

In general this was the procedure used in the questioning of Schinagle. During approximately an hour of questioning he made a number of misstatements and when confronted with these by Cornely broke down and began his confession.

In lauding Cornely's ability today, Chief Coon pointed out he has helped in cracking many lesser cases of burglary, stabbings, and similar crimes in Marion.

Cornely said today that he was trained in these procedures during World War II while a special agent in the U. S. Army 34th Criminal Investigation Division stationed in Manila, P.I.

On the police force for some 14 years, Cornely began as a rookie patrolman in 1939 and was appointed a captain four years ago.

Making a career of police work, he also has as hobbies hunting, fishing, and photography. He is married and is the father of four children, Richard, Jerry, Billy, and Daniel. He and his wife, Dorothy, and children reside at 351 W. Church St.

Convention Goes on Record

Bankers To Back Ike's Fiscal Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 6,000 bankers met today apparently in a mood to plump for freer trade and endorse key fiscal policies of the Eisenhower administration.

The American Bankers Assn. held the final meeting of its 79th annual convention. Resolutions cleared to the floor, and by tradition almost certain of adoption, would favor:

1. The United States "continuing to open its markets increasingly to foreign goods."

2. Federal reserve-treasury actions under a "flexible monetary policy—including flexibility of bond prices and interest rates."

3. Balancing the federal budget as a step "essential to the maintenance of a strong and stable economy."

Hear Talk on Debt

The bankers also scheduled a talk by W. Randolph Burgess, deputy to Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, on management of the 272 billion dollar federal debt.

Humphrey yesterday categorically promised the convention that tax cuts scheduled for Jan. 1—10 per cent in personal income tax and abolition of the excess profits tax on corporations, would not be postponed despite "the real possibility of an atomic Pearl Harbor hanging directly over our heads."

Additionally, Humphrey declared that the recent stock market decline does not look to him like a disaster and that there is "nothing to shiver about' in the prospect of somewhat lower business activity, in some lines.

The bankers' proposed resolution on foreign trade said in part:

"We believe that the United States should live up to its international responsibilities as the world's greatest creditor and producing nation by continuing to open its markets increasingly to foreign goods."

Cause For Jitters

Uneasiness was caused in many banks in recent months as the new administration supported and abetted the Federal Reserve policy of letting interest rates and government securities find their own market levels. This resulted in the market value of billions of dollars worth of government issues held by banks falling somewhat, causing paper losses on bank books although the value of the securities at maturity remained unchanged.

Despite this, the association received a resolution which said that the Federal Reserve-Treasury policy "demonstrated the importance to the public welfare of flexible monetary policy—including flexibility of bond prices and interest rates."

Interest rates have touched a 20-year high in the past few months, helping to make this the potentially most prosperous year for banks since the late twenties.

The resolution on monetary policy wound up:

The policy "of permitting some tightening of credit conditions has been effective in discouraging an excessive and inflationary expansion of credit. This policy has been an important factor in stabilizing the value of the dollar and should help to sustain future employment and production."

Another resolution stated that "with employment and production at record levels, a balanced federal budget is essential to the maintenance of a strong and stable economy."

Co-Ed Murder

diately began searching for Schinagle. Two officers were sent to his home near Cleveland, and two others went to the Ohio Wesleyan campus in Delaware to look for him.

Meanwhile the girl's brother, Robert of Columbus, was called to Upper Sandusky to identify the body. He identified it as his sister's.

The girl, clad in a light blue flannel nightgown and her red, low-heeled shoes, was found by a county road employe last Friday morning. The body was discovered in a wooded area, about 15 yards off the roadway. Her face and head had been stabbed or gashed about 20 times and her body bore bruises about the shoulders and ribs.

An autopsy report from Columbus revealed that she was about two months pregnant and that she had been criminally assaulted before she was killed. The report also revealed that the girl had been strangled.

Hundreds of inquiries from families and relatives representing a greater portion of the nation visited the Wyandot sheriff's office or phoned during the four-day search. Several times, it was thought that a positive identification might be made within the hour, but all leads proved false—until yesterday.

Called Out of Class

Upper Sandusky Police Captain Calvin Swartz and Patrolman Robert Hoffman went to the Ohio Wesleyan campus yesterday morning. They waited at the dean's office until Schinagle was called out of class. A sandy-haired, good-looking boy, dressed in an ROTC uniform, young Schinagle was told that police wanted him to go to Upper Sandusky to view the body in hopes of identifying it.

Schinagle replied, "Oh, you mean Cynthia."

The Upper Sandusky officers left Schinagle in the custody of the Delaware County sheriff while they searched his dormitory room and his car. A short time later the boy was brought to the Wyandot County jail and at 5:45 p.m. yesterday, announcement of the confession was made.

Met on Campus

Schinagle and the Pfeil girl met last year on the college campus where they were enrolled as freshmen. Schinagle was majoring in English and history and some reports said that he was planning to study for the ministry. Miss Pfeil did not register for the fall term this year at the college. She worked during the summer at a department store laundry in Cleveland. She was attempting to get a job in Delaware so that she might be near Schinagle. He said they had planned to be married. He was also quoted as saying that he might have been responsible for her pregnancy.

Authorities said Schinagle gave the following account of his activities:

He said Miss Pfeil had arrived in Delaware on Thursday afternoon by bus from Cleveland. She had used an equipment shack on the South field, a football practice field, as temporary living quarters. The two met on the field at dusk Thursday. Miss Pfeil was wearing the flannel nightgown and the red shoes.

Schinagle said a minor argument flared into a tempestuous quarrel. He said she mentioned something about a man who had been "bothering" her. The quarrel was intensified when the girl slapped him, he said. He finally "lost his head" and choked her, he said in his confession. When her body relaxed, he loaded it into his 1949 Plymouth and started driving. He said he din't remember much until he drove back into Delaware again.

Recalls Picking Up Iron

He recalled having stopped somewhere and picking up an iron rod. He drove on. He said he thought he tried to revive the girl once. Later he stopped and took the body from the car, apparently at the wooded setting near Upper Sandusky. He said he thought she was dead then, but he wasn't sure. He beat her over the head with the pipe. He said he might have stabbed her in the face several times in an effort to eliminate identification. He described the act as a subconscious effort to get rid of any identification. He removed from her body an identification bracelet and watch he had given her which were inscribed with his initials, he told police officers.

He said he knew he would be the first one to be connected with the girl's death. When he was asked why he hit the girl with the iron pipe he answered, "because she was dead."

Sheriff McAllister said the youth broke down and cried during the questioning before he signed the confession. Facing reporters after the statements had been signed, Schinagle said he had "no comment."

The girl's body was shipped to White Plains today where funeral services will be held at the Ballard-Durand Funeral Home. The body was at the Bringman and Company Funeral Home in Upper Sandusky until it was shipped to White Plains.

Wyandot County officials failed to say where charges would be filed against Schinagle.

Since the youth stated in his confession that he choked the girl as they stood on the Ohio Wesleyan University field, chances are that charges will be filed in Delaware County rather than in Wyandot County where the questioning took place. Officials will be considering evidence from the confession statements in determing the filing of charges.

Schinagle is described as a good-looking youth. He has medium blond hair and blue eyes. He is about 5 feet 8 inches tall, slim in build.

He was described by his teachers as an outstanding student at Mayfield Heights High School where he was graduated in June, 1952. He was vice president of the senior class, edited the school yearbook and played baseball. He was said to have had a high scholastic average as well as being a four-year letterman in baseball. He was captain of the high school baseball team during his junior and senior years. He was active in high school dramatics. Neighbors of the Schinagle family described him as a "model boy." He had gone "steady" with several girls in high school and he was said to be "quiet."

These Days

By George Sokolsky

If it could be impressed upon the American public that the rush-to-the-fire type of newsgathering is outmoded by the course of events, the importance of ideas, movements, forces, opinions would stand out more clearly. We are living in an era when what matters is not so much what is being done but what is being thought and believed.

SOKOLSKY

It is one of those curious eras in human history, and there have been several, when the struggle between good and evil, between God and the Devil, comes to the very surface of our lives. And the Devil seems, for the moment, to have the upper hand.

Thus, the "Manchester Guardian," with pretenses of liberalism, asks

"Have we gone back to the treadmill — to the endless and sterile discussions of what the Soviet and Western Governments might discuss if they ever manage dto meet' . . .'

YET, IT IS precisely that treadmill that we have to walk, for our experience has been that the Russian talks for the sake of talking and holds conferences endlessly because while pinning down his innocent adversary with unending and often meaningless talk, he also manages to pick his pockets.

We had an amazing experience with that technique at Panmunjom which lasted 25 months

Wisdom dictates to nations as to men that a good look might be taken with advantage before one leaps.

It is possible in advance to estimate the product of any international conference, and when it is obvious that the gains are all likely to be on the other side and the concessions all on our side, there is wisdom in not going to the conference.

-:-

WHAT CAN Soviet Russia possibly concede to the United States at this time? The question answers itself, for if Malenkov were to concede anything, such a concession would prove fatal to his system.

For instance, can Russia recognize a democratic, unified, remilitarized Germany? To do that would be to withdraw not only all Russian troops from the whole of Germany but also the German Communist party, which is an arm of the Kremlin. While the former might under certain not too unfavorable circumstances be done, the latter is impossible.

Soviet Russia will never withdraw her agency of espionage and infiltration which in any country is worth more than troops.

Yet, the United States can make concessions over Germany. Were the United States and Great Britain to withdraw their troops from Germany, that country could be neutralized, unified, demilitarized and turned into a Peoples' Republic, the surest avenue to becoming a satellite of the Kremlin.

The Russian boundary would then be moved from the river Elbe to the Rhine.

WHEN A NATION faces a conference that is so unevenly balanced as to probable results, the smartest position to take is that attendance is useless and meaningless. Therefore there should be no conference.

This country has suffered singularly from its allies and beneficiaries.

The United States, since 1830, has been aiding China. Hundreds of millions of dollars of American money have been poured into the Middle Kingdom for education, health and religion. The United States historically once helped to save China from conquest by Russia (Open Door 1899) and actually saved China from conquest by Japan. Yet today, China is our most serious enemy.

It serves no purpose to say that that is not the mood of the Chinese people but is only the attitude of the Chinese Communists.

WHEN OUR SONS were being killed in Korea by Chinese, it made little difference whether the Chinese were whole-hearted or half-hearted in their hate. Our boys who were there know about that.

France, whom we rescued at great cost in two wars, is flirting with neutralism. It is so shocking an attitude that it is almost unbelievable. Yet the fact is that as long as France veers in the direction of neutralism, the United States is forced to support France's enemy, West Germany.

World War II cost the United States $350 billion. Since then, the United States has poured about $60 billion into Europe and Asia as free-will offerings.

We suffered 1,000,000 casualties in World War II, nearly 150,000 in the Korean War.

What is there to show for all this? Conferences and, more conferences, taxes and more taxes; talk and more talk! It is not good enough.

Germans Rebuild Merchant Marine, 71 Ships Launched

HAMBURG, —(NANA)—West Germany's booming shipyards are hard at work rebuilding the German passenger-shipping fleet

The Germans, who say that the day of huge trans-Atlantic liners is dead, intend, instead, to concentrate on combination passenger-cargo ships. Six such ships, carrying 80 passengers, each will be completed for Hamburg-America by the end of 1954. The Germans say they will offer discriminating travelers "the latest in luxury, including a library, swimming pool, winter garden and lounge."

Germany is rapidly reviving her prewar shipping and passenger-ship services, and her shipyards are working at full capacity. In the last four months they have launched 54 ships, amounting to 123,581 tons, for German owners, and an additional 17 ships for foreign owners.

Two hundred and eighty ships, totaling over 1,000,000 tons, 85 of them for foreign owners, are currently under construction — an amazing achievement, considering that it was not until April 1951 that the Allies permitted the Germans to build big ships again.

World production of coal and lignite exceeds 1.7 billion tons per year, with the United States producing one-third of the world total.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

ST. LOUIS

Agents of the secret police of two nations have been mingling with the influential leaders and guests concentrated here for the AFL's 72nd annual convention. The MVD, the FBI and special units of the Treasury Department are fully represented.

RIESEL

And for good reasons. There will be more political dynamite jam-packed into this one-week conclave than in any AFL gathering since the time they had to beat back a left-wing effort to blast the U.S. during the first World War.

-:-

COMMIE AGENTS are here—some registered at the Hotel De-Soto — on a very special assignment. They are to scout the first convention under George Meany and report back on what the best tactic would be for a drive to get the country's 10 Communist-controlled unions into the AFL. That's the directive from the Comintern — "get back into the AFL even if it means dismembering your national unions and feeding parts of it into AFL unions so you can begin agitating for the Soviet line under an AFL label."

What the Comintern wants especially is a respectable front for its unions so they can blast the Eisenhower administration and organize to beat it in 1956 in the hope that such a defeat might bring a "soft" State Department.

It should be pointed out, however, that the AFL's coming slashing attack on the administration as a "front for big business" is a separate one which must be distinguished from the Communist efforts to exploit it with violent "anti-big business" strikes. Such stoppages are definitely planned by the left-wing unions this coming year.

THE FBI AND Treasury agents are keeping their eyes on officials in some Teamsters Union locals, Laborers and Hod Carriers Unions, Construction Trades and some Building Service Union outfits

Informed national police circles believe that there is a split in the countrywide crime syndicate which controls that section of labor now in gang hands. So this is the place to observe who pals with whom. Also what mode of living the boys are accustomed to.

These informed circles 'know however, that the most powerful of all labor men won't be here. He's Joe Fay, now serving time in Sing Sing for extortion. He gives many of the orders. At least 16 of the AFL's influential leaders have visited him in the Big House during the past few years, as have some big name political leaders in the East.

These men are believed to be so powerful they may stop AFL president George Meany even from expelling the International Longshoremen's Association, and keep the penalty down to suspension. It requires a two-thirds vote for expulsion—and Meany may not be able to whip this up. Figure it out for yourself.

THERE IS a report in some circles here that Meany has asked CIO president Walter Reuther to smash all precedent and appear dramatically on the AFL's convention platform . . In turn, according to this course Meany will appear on the CIO platform in Cleveland this November . .

This would be consistent with Meany's bitterness toward President Eisenhower and the AFL chief's angry drive to unite the AFL and CIO against the Republicans to drive them first from control of Congress and then the White House.

However, a strong Republican labor bloc is forming behind the scenes. Just the other day, Dick Gray, head of 3,000,000 AFL construction workers, told his people that President Eisenhower couldn't have acted differently in the Durkin case because the White House didn't have Congress with it and couldn't put over a pro-labor program such as the ex-labor secretary wanted . . .

SUCH AN INTERNAL battle would seriously affect AFL politics next year. The Republican unions could smash the AFL's political offensive by withholding funds from the AFL's Political League, now trying to raise millions by getting a dollar a man from the AFL's 10,000,000 members. (The official AFL count is slightly over 8,300,000). But that's low because some unions withhold a full count, not wishing to pay full per capita dues!

Talk here of merging with the CIO will be met by a debut speech by the new AFL Teamsters' Union president Dave Beck. He'll demand that any consideration of a merger with other unions immediately include John Lewis and the miners. John L. has personal observers here, though registered at hotels outside the delegates' circuit . . Any move by Meany to build up a New Deal bloc in a merged labor coalition of 16,000,000 will be offset by Beck bringing in John Lewis. They will be backed by the CIO Steelworkers chief, David McDonald . .

Word here, too, is that the House un-American Activities Committee has the names of 152 movie stars, writers and technicians who were members of the Communist party. Hearings will be held this winter. The names will startle many in the industry . .

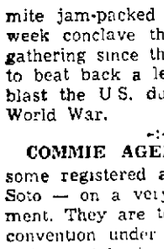
Ticket for Oblivion

By Inez Robb

If I cherished an itch to run for Congress, I know a plank on which to run and win elections



INEZ ROBB

It would be on my solemn promise all campaign promises are "solemn" to keep off the front pages and out of the papers such characters as Aly Khan, King Farouk, the Gabors en masse, Rita Hayworth, Ava Gardner, Eddie Mussolini Ciano Gene Tierney, Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer et al

Toward the close of the September heat wave about two weeks ago, oppressed by the humidity, I wrote that if I never again heard of any of these exhibitionists, I would be just that much ahead of the game.

I FELT THEIR press agents would probably cast a loud negative squawk and that would be the end of it. I had certainly not anticipated hitting the jackpot at the post office. But a vast number of American citizens in the 48 states and assorted off-shore islands feel even more violently on the issue than I do and have not hesitated to take pen in hand to say so.

I have been taken to task by the correspondents for only two reasons: 1—That the list of exhibitionists was not more inclusive and 2—That I didn't lower the boom even more harshly on these perennial cinders in the public eye

THE POSITIVE deluge of ballots for oblivion included not only the above, with particular emphasis on Rita Hayworth and the Gabors, but also nominated—almost without exception—Sheperd "Abdullah" King and any and all of his muscle dancers, Errol Flynn, King Peter of Yugoslavia, Tommy Manville, Lana Turner, Ava Gardner, Frankie Sinatra, Ingrid Bergman, Rossellini, Dick Haymes and the Windsors

Another large group of voters insist they can live happily forever after if they never again hear of Charlie Chaplin, Doc Kinsey, Lex Barker and Elsa Maxwell.

"I saw a recent picture of Elsa on a donkey and didn't know which was which until I read the caption," says a browned-off gent in Portland, Me

"THE STORY of Farouk and his wife in 'The Ladies Home Journal' makes me sick at my stomach," says a frank Dallas, Tex. ballot.

"This nation pretends to be worried sick about the morals of teenagers," writes a woman from Port Angeles, Wash. "This age group makes up a large percentage of the nation's movie-goers. Movies stars are their gods. But what kind of an example is set for them by the Rita Hayworths or the Ingrid Bergmans? When will the movie industry learn to police itself?"

"I hate censorship," declares a man from Huntington, W. Va., "but the movies are begging for it when they cast Hayworth and her kind in bigger and bigger parts as a reward for their uninhibited behavior."

"I LIKE to look at the picture of a pretty girl as much as the next fellow," writes a man from Memphis, Tenn., "but isn't it possible to round up a few pretty girls who aren't advanced deliquents?"

It may interest this impassioned public, no less than myself, to know that a half-dozen newspaper editors feel the same way. It ain't enough, but it's a beginning. The virus may spread. We may yet find some of these front page public bores relegated to the want ad section, if at all

The fact is that many Americans do not find these pests glamorous. They find them the very opposite nauseous.

Like the lord high executioner in "The Mikado," a lot of people seem to have looked over the field and to be humming ominously:

"I have a little list,
I have a little list,
They never will be missed.
They never will be missed!"

1953 Will Be Long-Remembered

Summer of Record-Setting Heat Ends

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1953 summer season, one of the hottest and driest in many years in the eastern half of the nation ended today and there were no cheers for a return engagement.

The scorching heat and no heavy rainfall dealt damaging blows to crops and livestock in many sections. The losses ran into the millions of dollars.

Many New Records Set

Weather Bureau logs in scores of cities from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast bulged with new heat records.

It was hot and dry most of the summer—and in some sections before the start of summer on June 21.

But the nation's most prolonged heat wave of the season was in late August and early September. In some sections in the nation's eastern half the blistering weather—temperatures in the 90's and above 100—showed no letup for as long as 10 days.

Humidity added to the discomfort of the sweltering millions. Thousands were treated for heat prostration. Scores died from causes attributed to the heat.

The drought continued to plague farmers and ranchers in the Southwest and in parts of New England and the South.

Crop Output Cut

In California, it was the late cool summer weather and unseasonably low summer temperatures that cut into crop production.

The nation's weather has been fairly pleasant the last three weeks. The arrival of the autumn season at 3:07 a.m. EST today was marked earlier this week by frost and freezing weather in some areas, indicating the end of the hot, humid days of 1953.

But it was the hot and muggy weather that brought a revision of the Weather Bureau record books. The Midwest, the South, New England and the Atlantic Coast areas all were in the swelter belt. There was a brief hot spell in the Pacific Northwest but no extended heat wave.

Sixth Hottest Summer

For example, in the Atlantic Coast area, only five other summers in New York City Weather Bureau records—dating back to 1871—were hotter than 1953 on an over-all basis.

In the Midwest, temperature records toppled almost daily during the August-September heat wave. In Illinois, readings were 95 or higher for 10 straight days. Chicago had 39 days of 90 degree readings or higher compared to a normal of 13 for the summer season.

Besides warm weather, rainfall was below normal in New England and June was the second driest in history in Boston with less than one-half inch rainfall.

Other Areas Hot

South Carolina reported one of the hottest summers in history. Tennessee had 15 new heat records during the summer. In Kentucky there were seveal periods of five and six straight days of temperatures between 95 and 100. Some sections of North Carolina had the driest July and August ever recorded.

The drought was a major problem in Texas and several Southern states, including counties in Arkansas, Mississippi, Kentucky, South Carolina and Tennessee. Normal summer weather was reported in Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

Rains in late August, causing flash floods in South Texas, and wiping out drought in much of that area, also helped cattle ranges and raised cotton and grain sorghums prospects over most of the state except Far West Texas.

Late summer crops and pastures are suffering from drought in Arkansas where 50 of 75 counties are eligible for federal drought relief. Four counties in Northwestern Mississippi have been declared a relief area. Fifteen counties in Western Kentucky have been designated disaster areas.

In California, cool wather has delayed cotton, barley, rice and other field crops and cut the production of some. Cotton, the state's biggest money crop, is developing late because of early cool weather, and production is expected to be below last year. A similar situation exists in fruits, including apples, pears, grapes and olives.

Mrs. Richard Bender Named Guild President

Mrs. Richard Bender was elected president of the Greenwood EUB Christian Service Guild recently at the home of Mrs. Merrill Loper on Council St. She takes the place of Mrs. Robert Baer who resigned. Mrs. Milbourne Donaugh was elected vice president.

Opening Scripture was read by Mrs. Jack Gorenflo, and prayer was by Mrs. John F. Gorenflo. The former presented an article, "A Christian Faces Politics." Following business, Mrs Bender read a poem and gave the lesson study on "Christ Calls for Growth," listing Bible reading and prayer as "two ways for a Christian to grow." Guest night and a masquerade party were planned for the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Gorenflo on N Main St. A committee appointed for entertainment includes Mrs. Marvin LaRue and Mrs. Donaugh. Mrs. Perry Strine gave the closing prayer.

Researchers Find Food Plays Big Part in Pilot's Effectiveness

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Air Force medical officers said today that digestive gas generated by combat zone meals apparently interferred with the flying and fighting of Sabre jet pilots in Korea

A squadron fed a special diet of non-gas-forming foods averaged 4 2 times as many claims of success against enemy planes as did pilots in two other squadrons similar in all other respects but fed regular messhall fare, the researchers reported.

The test was described by Capt Frederich J. Hinman, a psychiatrist, and Capt Mary C Horak, a dietician, in the Air University Quarterly Review, an Air Force publication

They said the difference in performance records "can be considered significant," although they were unwilling to credit it entirely to the diet.

The tests were undertaken because of "an increasing number of complaints from fighter pilots reporting abdominal cramps of varying severity during flight"

Some pilots, flying at more than 45,000 feet with cabin pressures equivalent to altitudes as high as 35,000 feet, suffered abdominal pains so sharp and cramping they had to discontinue their missions or descend to lower altitudes.

"It is conceivable that this type of pain could be of sufficient intensity to induce shock in which the pilot would be incapable of controlling his aircraft," the medical researchers said.

They explained that low air pressure at high altitudes caused gas enclosed within the body to expand and give pain.

In the messhall experiment, one squadron was given a special high protein diet free of 'excessive carbohydrates and fats, high residue foods and excessively spicy dishes"

The men had milk, fresh frozen vegetables and salads in addition to the regular foods, were fed stewed or fresh fruit twice daily and were served broiled or fried meats only in the evening so that they would not be called upon to fly after a fried meal.

The U S Bureau of Mines says major coal mine disasters—in which five or more men are killed—account for only seven per cent of all coal mine fatalities.

HEY, IT'S MY TURN. Stephen Smith, 4, seems to think his sister, Linda, 5, has used up more than her share of time in welcoming home their father, Capt J B Smith of Denver, who was a prisoner of war in Korea for 31 months. That's Mrs. Smith smiling at left in reunion in Denver.

Local Club Hears Talk by Director Of Rotary Zone 2

Robert A Manchester of Youngstown, director of Rotary International for zone two, spoke on the "Program of Rotary International" at the regular meeting of the Marion Rotary Club Tuesday at Hotel Harding

He explained the Rotary hopes to improve this year. Members aim at an expanded Rotary, a better informed Rotary, and a more effective Rotary, he said

Henry Mickley, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Dr James Greetham, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting

Guests Tuesday were Harold Bonecutter of Marion, George F Leatherman of Findlay, Ted Kilbury, student reporter from St Mary School.

Judge Awards Divorce To Both Parties in Suit

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—A judge decided that both parties had a good case and granted separate divorce decrees to Genevieve and Antonio Torez of Calwa.

Superior Court Judge Edward J. Kellas said his decision—believed to be the first of its kind in California—was based on a supreme court decision. The high court ruled it is permissable to grant separate decrees when neither party is innocent of charges filed by the other.

The couple had been married seven years. She sued on charges of cruelty and he counterfiled on the same complaint.

The Union of South Africa has three capitals: Pretoria for the executive department, Cape Town for the legislature and Bloemfontein for the national judiciary.

Baked Tuna Thrifty and Appetizing

How're the pickings on your pantry shelf in an emergency? Ever plan to go out to eat and then have a sudden change in plans? Or maybe have company drop by for supper unexpectedly? Lots of folks find they have almost everything they need but milk and now they can have this always handy with the convenient foil-lined package of nonfat dry milk.

Nonfat dry milk, which is milk with only the fat and water removed, is extremely exonomical for a one-pound package and will yield five quarts of nonfat milk.

For the starring feature of your pantry shelf menu try Tuna Bake.

Tuna Bake: 1 cup elbow macaroni, uncooked, 1 package frozen peas, cooked or 2 cups fresh peas, cooked, 1 (7 oz.) can solid packed tuna, drained and flaked, 1½ cups water, ½ cup nonfat dry milk, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 2 tablespoons pickle relish.

Cook macaroni as directed on package. Drain; add peas and flaked tuna. Pour water into top of double boiler. Combine dry milk powder, flour, salt and pepper. Sprinkle over surface of water; beat with rotary beater until blended. Add onion and pickle relish. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Pour over macaroni mixture. Toss lightly until thoroughly mixed. Place mixture in a 1½ quart casserole. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until top browns slightly. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Crash Fatal to 3 Near Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A truck and a dump truck collided last night in nearby Willoughby Twp., killing three persons.

Dead were the Rev. William C. Stillinger, 66, pastor of the Church of Christ in Ashtabula; his wife, Estelle, 61, and her sister, Mrs. Emma Fogel, 79, of Charleston, W. Va.

The Stillingers had lived at nearby Bedford until a year ago. He had been a bookkeeper for American Steel & Wire Co.

The truck driver, William J. Zenisek, 20, suffered bruises.

WILL VOTE ON TAX

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A one-half per cent city income tax proposal will be on the November ballot in Canton, election board clerk James Seccombe said today. His check of 215 petitions which 6,833 persons had signed had enough valid signatures to put the question before voters. A one per cent tax passed by the city council was thrown out by voters last November.

Mail Carrier Tries Law as Sideline, Wins First Case

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A mail carrier who practices law on the side won his first criminal case by proving his client was in jail at the time the crime he was accused of was committed.

Richard J. Brown, the lawyer, had offered to represent clients without pay just for the experience after he was licensed to practice a year ago.

The circuit attorney's office dismissed the case yesterday against his client, charged under the habitual criminal act, after Brown proved the man was in jail for routine investigation when he was accused of snatching a woman's purse.

Brown went to night school at St. Louis University eight years while working full time as a mail carrier and supporting his mother.

Argue Cause of Slump

Mortgage Money Tight? Builders, Bankers Differ

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Bankers and home builders are at odds today over whether there's enough money around for mortgages.

And government officials are expressing concern over the mild slump in home building and hinting of pump priming if private mortgage credit can't carry the load.

A slowdown in production is reported by some firms supplying builders.

The start of National Home Week finds spokesmen for the builders charging that mortgage lenders are "returning to horse-and-buggy financing, with high down payments, high monthly payments, higher interest rates and second mortgages."

The president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, Emanuel M. Spiegel, presumably speaking for its 26,000 members, asks: "Are we to repeat the pattern of the twenties and the bitter years that followed?"

The president of the American Bankers Assn., W. Harold Brenton, however, says there's plenty of mortgage money. At the opening of the association's annual meeting in Washington, the Des Moines, Iowa, bank president says he sees no need for government agencies to liberalize mortgage terms.

Mortgages will cost home builders more than they did two or three years ago, admits Charles L. Clements, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, the typical non-veteran borrower will pay around 5 to 5½ per cent. And down payments are higher.

But Clements says mortgage money is in ample supply to meet a healthy demand — within the scope of the administration's "sound money" policy. Higher interest rates have followed this move to harden the dollar and halt inflation.

Home building has slackened off some this summer. Housing starts reached a peak in April of 111,000 units. In August privately-owned housing starts dropped to 93,000, although for the first eight months of the year their total was still running ahead of last year.

What seems to worry the administration, however, is that applications for mortgage insurance by the Federal Housing Administration have fallen off fairly sharply. This might mean that by next year home building would drop to a level the administration considers unhealthy.

One effect of the slowing down in the pace of home building is seen today in Youngstown, Ohio, where Republic Steel announces it is putting its workers who make windows, lathes and other materials for residential building on a four-day week. Reason: A drop in demand for home building supplies.

Dick Haymes, Rita Plan To Obtain License Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dick Haymes, a crooner who has had plenty of trouble with wives and Uncle Sam, takes out a marriage license today with Rita Hayworth, a gal who has had her share of husband trouble.

Haymes and the glamorous screen star pick up the wedding license at 3 p.m. (Pacific daylight time). That is just one hour after he gets a divorce from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes.

The singer and the actress will be married tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Sands Hotel, where both have been guests for some time. It will be marriage No.4 for both.

Besieging Austrians staged the first aerial raid in history when they sent bombs slung to hot air balloons over Venice in 1849.

TELLS RED DEMANDS. Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky shakes an admonishing finger as he declares that Communist demands on the Korean peace conference "must be met." Vishinsky told the 60-nation General Assembly of the United Nations that the Reds demanded the inclusion of neutral nations in the conference.

Fall Dawns Fair Over Most of U.S.

By The Associated Press

The autumn season started off on a pleasant trend over nearly all of the country today.

There were only a few wet spots, in southern Florida and in sections of the Pacific Northwest. Elsewhere skies generally were fair. There were some rain clouds in the Northern Plains and they headed for the northern Great Lakes region. The autumn season's official start was at 3:07 a.m. EST.

There was a warming trend in the Rocky Mountain region and the Plains States.

It was a little cooler from the east Texas Coast area through the Gulf States to Georgia and northwestward along the Atlantic Seaboard to eastern New York. It was hot in the far southwest with a high of 106 at Gila Bend, Ariz.

HITS LONG RACE MEETS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche yesterday told Ohio race commissioner Zoltan Gombos he wants long horse race programs eliminated. He said he understood operators are planning to increase cards from nine to 10 races and added steps should be taken to end "excessive commercial racing" in the 1954 season.

Erie Railroad Income Listed At $8,574,212

NEW YORK—Erie Railroad net income for the first eight months of 1953 was $8,574,212 or $2.95 per share of common stock before capital and sinking funds, Paul W. Johnston, president, announced Tuesday following a board of directors meeting. In the same period last year, it was $6,843,788 or $2.24 per share.

August net income was $908,782 or 30 cents a share as against $1,027,726 or 35 cents a share the same month a year ago.

Gross revenues for the month of August were $15,925,473 compared with $15,406,419 a year ago. Gross revenues for eight months reached $122,614,826 compared with $113,217,888, an increase of $9,396,938 or 8.3 per cent.

Operating expenses for August were $12,041,870 compared with $11,635,690 last year, and for eight months they were $90,512,562 this year and $88,938,313 last year, up $1,574,249 or 1.8 per cent.

Erie's carloadings for the first 17 days of September are running 2.0 per cent behind last month and 4.2 per cent behind last year.

The National Geographic Society says that ashes flew so thick during the 1912 eruption of Mt. Katmai in Alaska that a lantern held at arm's length could not be seen.

Chance of War Reduced Somewhat, Wilson Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson professes the personal opinion that the hazard of war "is somewhat reduced."

He expressed it to reporters yesterday after a conference with President Eisenhower.

Wilson said the country was in "a much stronger military position" than it was a year ago and that he hoped this would deter Russia from any plan to start another war.

His hope, he said, is that more and more people on both sides of the Iron Curtain will realize that "no one can really win a war."

A man in Pennsylvania, who has absorbed his share of punishment handed out on the giveaway shows where private agony is made a matter of public concern has taken pen in hand and written the Columbia Broadcasting System a constructive suggestion

J CROSBY

'Here's a television whose he wrote that combines the most desirable elements of all existing TV programs It's a panel format titled What Have I Got?" The panel will consist of four eminent medical men and an emcee of the Dennis James type The participant is wheeled before the panel and states his symptoms — nagging backache decaying teeth fallen arches The panel questions him in great detail and may actually examine the subject

"IMAGINE THE CAMERA possibilities The panelists take his pulse look at his teeth tap his knee with a rubber hammer They arrive at a diagnosis Studio audience applauds Then the middle commercial. (Great spot for a medically - endorsed cigarette, toothpaste or soap)

Two more contestants follow each suffering from the most miserable maladies The studio audience — by means of the applause meter of course — selects the contestant with the darkest prognosis He is awarded prizes — a three - week trip to the Mayo Clinic all expenses paid a year's supply of penicillin, 24 - hour nursing service for six months And of course, there are prizes for the losers — Bandaids, Argerol, aspirin

'If you need a producer or director please contact me Sincerely yours Gilbert Miller"

IT SOUNDS LIKE a fine idea to me the way television is going It's got suffering it's got prizes it's got a panel it's got quiz questions What else does television need? But CBS didn't see it that way. Mr Miller got back a very sober letter which ran in part 'Basically, it is not felt that the format of this program is unusual and strong enough to provide a framework that will meet the competitive standards in operation today"

Well I don't know about that CBS What competitive standards in operation today? It's certainly as strong as 'Strike It Rich" On Strike It Rich they just whine about their troubles On What Have I got?" they could actually moan, tossing about on their beds of pain

TO PASS ON TO OTHER small matters Jack Webb on Dragnet has a girl In short romance has reared its head on a program primarily designed to show police work at its dreariest and most authentic The girl, the only time I saw her, was complaining bitterly that she was playing second fiddle to every small thief and arsonist that came along

Well that's the way it goes when you start going around with coppers girl If you were a little older you'd remember Dick Tracy's courtship He was engaged to that girl, if memory serves about 15 years before he got around to marrying her (He did marry her finally didn't he?) Every time matrimony loomed the telephone would ring and Dick would go dashing off in his squad car, bellowing into his wrist radio

I PREDICT THE SAME fate for this doll Things were just getting cozy the other night when Mr Weeo's partner appeared A couple of school kids had broken into the laboratory and stolen some white rats which had been infected with bubonic plague and, if they weren't recovered within 24 hours the whole city was in danger Offraced Webb

Look girl why don't you wangle an introduction to the desk sergeant? He just sits there answering phone calls all day And when his tour of duty is up he's as new say ready

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans were mostly a little lower at the opening on the Board of Trade today Prices of other grains were mixed, with dealings slow in all pits

There were some reports of an increase overnight in offerings of cash soybeans by the country Receipts here totaled 51 cars

Wheat started ⅜ lower to ⅜ higher, December $1 90½ corn was unchanged to ⅛ lower December $1 47⅛ oats were ¼ lower to ¼ higher, December u4¼, and soybeans were ½ lower to ¼ higher, November $2 58¼-$2 57½.

Eight per cent more cattle were on feed for market in the 11 corn belt states last July first than on the same date in 1952

Plans for Dumping Ground Okayed by Crestline Council

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE—Plans for a new dumping ground were made when Crestline Council met Monday night Council agreed to lease land for the purpose and to enter into a contract with the two garbage haulers now operating in Crestline making them official collecting agents They are Richard James and J W Bland They will be expected to monthly pay an annual fee of $90 for use of the ground the same fee the village will pay as its lease of the property

In addition they will be required to pay for the ground fill ditch which will be dug by the Iberia Earth Moving Co at a cost of $118 every three months

The leased property is located on West Bucyrus St opposite the roundhouse and north of the school house An access road 320 feet long and 20 feet wide will be built up with cinders by the two garbage collectors

George Stover night patrolman presented his resignation

Glory Has Its Price

Fame Brings Trials and Tribulations

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Would you like to be world famous, recognized and admired wherever you went?

The man in the street offhand would say, "Sure. Why not? Do you think I'm crazy." But if he thought it over, I don't think he'd want to be famous at all.

For it's a dog's life. It is living on a leash. It is being a public hermit. Fame is too often a cage that imprisons the one within it just as surely as a lion is held by the bars of a zoo.

I have met or interviewed many famous men and women, and usually have come away feeling rather sorry for them. Their renown is a heavy and burdensome chain, and restricts their freedom. Whatever power they gain from fame often is hardly worth the simple pleasures they lose.

The truth is that the man in the street has more real fun and freedom than the man on the pedestal.

The price of those who stand upon a public peak of prominence is to be stared at wherever they go, bowed to, endlessly admired. The ordinary man certainly feels he could use a little more appreciation from those around him—particularly his wife, his other boss, his children, the neighbors and a few traffic cops. When he pays his taxes, he may even think the least his Uncle Sam could do in return is mail him a "thank you" note.

But otherwise his appetite for acclaim is actually pretty limited. The fame he wistfully daydreams of would—if his dreams came true—be a living nightmare. And in his heart he knows it. To win achievement or recognition in one field is one thing. But to be widely famous is another thing.

To most people fame would be a nuisance and a bore. It would be frightening and kill them young. For every man likes to feel he is his own master. But when you are famous you are the uneasy prisoner of everybody.

You become public property, whether you like it or not. Some famous folk revolt against being pawed by the people, and their reward is sometimes to be sneered at as "gettin' too big for his britches."

But they have a right to be themselves. It is said even the gentle Gen. Robert E. Lee disliked having people touch him or walk closely behind him. An earlier general, Cincinnatus, went back to his plow after saving Rome. Probably the other generals and politicians called him a showoff, but was he? Or is Greta Garbo insincere when, after a tremendous career, she insists now on the right to be alone?

Recently a tall, still youthful-looking man of middle age was looking at a tray of gadgets in a five-and-ten cent store.

"Doesn't he look familiar?" one salesgirl asked another.

"Like who?"

"Well, a little like Lindbergh."

"Ye-e-es," said the second girl doubtfully, "maybe around the eyes and mouth. But can you imagine Lindbergh being in here?"

Both girls laughed at the idea.

A moment later Charles A. Lindbergh paid for his purchases, smiled shyly and walked out. No man in history ever won a greater fame overnight then he did—few wanted that kind of fame less, or paid a more terrible price for it.

Today Lindbergh is happier than he has been in more than a quarter of a century because, as he told a friend, "Now I can go into a dime store and nobody knows me."

It is one of the greatest privileges and pleasures he has known since he made his famous flight to Paris—just to be as free again as any other man in the street.

Delmar Risch Elected Master of Grange Unit

Election of officers for the new year was held when Grand Prairie Grange met Tuesday night, Sept. 15, at the Grand Prairie School.

Delmar Risch was named master. Serving with him will be Dean Shelton, overseer; Mrs. Max Mitchell, lecturer; Eugene Dasher, steward; William Burley Jr., assistant steward; Mrs. William Burley Jr., lady assistant steward; Mrs. Elmore Dean, chaplain; Mrs. Delmar Brewer, secretary; William Wilson, treasurer; Harold Ludwick, gatekeeper; Mrs. Harold Ludwick, Ceres; Mrs. William Burley Sr., Flora; Mrs. Robert Klatt, Pomona; Mrs. William Hutchman, juvenile matron; Mrs. Hubert Ackley, assistant matron; Mrs. Walter Lyon, pianist; Elmore Dean, legislative agent.

Contributions were voted toward three appeals for aid.

Wives of Members Are Guests of Dental Club

Wives of the members were guests when the Marion Dental Study Club held a ladies night dinner meeting Monday evening at The Trees on Delaware Ave. Thirty doctors and their guests were present from Marion and Bucyrus.

Guest speaker was Dr. F. A. Stengel, Marion optometrist, who talked on hobbies.

At the next meeting, Oct. 19, Dr. H. J. Bohrman of Marion will be moderator for a discussion on "Orthodontics and General Practice."

Prisoner Just Wanted To Get Some Cigarets

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — A cord made of strips of cloth dangled from a Wake County Jail window yesterday. Passersby, wondering whether a jailbreak was planned, found this note attached:

"Please tie pack of cigarettes to this string. Thank you."

A pack about two-thirds full was tied on and the prisoner hoisted happily away.

Failure To Invite Red China To Join UN Is Criticized

DENVER (AP) — Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) declared here yesterday that war wouldn't have broken out in Korea if Red China had been invited to join the United Nations.

Johnson told the Denver City Club there was a time when he favored admission of the Chinese Communists into the U. N.

That time, he said, was just after the rebels had kicked out the Nationalist government. The Chinese Reds are "just as good as Russia and a lot of other nations that belong to the U. N.," he said.

But that was before the Korean War. Johnson said he now opposes entry of the Chinese Reds into the world organization — "because we can't let them shoot their way into the U. N."

Denver Zoo To Import Spouse for 'Doc' Stork

DENVER (AP)—"Doc" Stork, the only one of his long-stemmed species at Denver's City Park zoo, is going to get a mate.

Fittingly enough, she will be paid for by the owner of a maternity clothing shop, Stanley A. Levy. A female stork will be imported from Europe next spring as "Doc's" spouse.

Bulldozer Ends 11-Year Search for Buried Money

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eleven years ago, when Constance Mertens' uncle was on his deathbed, he told her there was money buried in the chickenyard.

Yesterday, a bulldozer grading the site for an automobile sales yard, turned up three glass jars containing $1,000 in silver and currency.

Miss Mertens was watching when the money was uncovered. She said she and relatives had dug "all over that chickenyard without finding the money."

She gave each of the eight workmen one of the silver dollars as a memento.

Reception Planned By Pythian Sisters In Honor of Chief

Final plans are being made for the reception honoring the new grand chief of the Ohio Pythian Sisters, Mrs. Marietta Heller of near Morral, by the Morral temple.

The reception is scheduled for Oct. 3 in the Morral school auditorium. It will be a public reception, and all temples in Ohio have been invited to send representative.

There will be a receiving line of newly elected Ohio grand temple officers from 7 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. preceding the program. Newly elected officers in addition to Mrs. Heller are Mrs. Pearl Hummell, Cleveland, grand senior; Mrs. Mabel Downey, Akron, grand junior; Mrs. Bernice Hannahs, Alexandria, grand secretary; Mrs. Edith Vandenburg, Toledo, grand treasurer; Mrs. Clara Cochran, Newark, grand manager; Mrs. Ruth Bushong, Findlay, grand protector; and Mrs. Pauline Taylor, Swanton, past grand chief.

All temples of the district, which includes Marion County, will take part in the program.

Bogart To Leave Film Studio After 17 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Humphrey Bogart and Warner Brothers Studio have reached an amicable parting of the ways after an association of 17 years.

Bogart asked for release from a 15-year contract signed in 1946, calling for one picture a year, and the studio acceded.

The actor has his own film company, Santana Productions, and leaves Sunday to make a picture for Paramount in New York.

Lopez Reported Ready To Accept Cincinnati Spot

Birdie Tebbetts Thought In Line To Manage Tribe

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Lopez will leave the second place Cleveland Indians to manage the second division Cincinnati Redlegs next year, it was learned today.

Lopez is expected to be succeeded by George Tebbetts, former Cleveland catcher who currently is manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Association. Indianapolis is a farm team of the Indians.

In Cincinnati, Gen. Manager Gabe Paul of the Redlegs said, "no comment," when asked if Lopez had been hired.

The Cincinnati job was left vacant last week when Rogers Hornsby was fired.

Lopez about to finish his third season as Cleveland manager, never finished lower than second His club was runner-up to the New York Yankees in 1951 and 1952 with identical 93-61 records and currently is second to the Yankees for the third straight time.

Tebbetts, like Lopez, is a veteran catcher with lots of major league experience behind him. He left the Indians at the end of last season to take over the reins of Indianapolis. Whereas Lopez is known as a quiet, mild-mannered leader, Tebbetts is a firebrand type of manager.

Lopez is due to confer with Gabe Paul, president of the Redlegs, during the World Series in New York The announcement is expected to be made then or shortly after. The 45-year-old native of Tampa, Fla., the spring training home of the Cincinnati Club, probably will sign a two-year contract if they agree to terms.

One of baseball's top receivers, Lopez spent 18 years in the majors, mostly in the National League He started with Brooklyn and saw a great deal of service with Boston and Pittsburgh before going over to the American League with Cleveland in 1947. As a catcher, Al set a major league endurance record, catching 1,918 games. He also tied a National mark of catching 100 or more games for 12 seasons

After serving in the dual capacity as a catcher and coach with Cleveland, Lopez was named manager of Indianapolis in 1948 and won a pennant in his first year He was generally recognized as the minor league's outstanding manager after finishing second with Indianapolis in 1949 and 1950. He succeeded Lou Boudreau as Indian chief in the winter of 1950

Tebbetts, who admits to being three years older than his recorded 37 years, is a native of Nashua, N H He joined the Detroit Tigers in 1936 and put in 12 years at the Motor City before his trade to the Boston Red Sox The Indians purchased his contract in December, 1950 but he played only 55 games the following year before accepting the job at Indianapolis.

Odds on Champ Climb as Title Defense Nears

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The odds favoring heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano over challenger Roland LaStarza soared to 4½ to 1 today and may go even higher when the two step into the Polo Grounds Thursday night for their 15-round title fight

Despite the long odds and the fact that there are few among the fight mob who give the 26-year-old contender a chance, interest in the fight continued to mount

Ringside seats were selling beyond the 18th row Ticket scalpers were demanding and getting handsome premiums for the $30 ringside seats within the first ten rows.

Jim Norris, the president of the promoting International Boxing Club predicted tat he would have at least $300,000 in the till the morning of the fight.

Smart's Status For Brown Jug Still in Doubt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Betting men at the Grand Circuit meet at Delaware will be able to make an interesting side wager today. Will Wayne (Curly) Smart be in or out of the sulky?

Yesterday the veteran trainer and driver won a temporary restrainer against the U. S Trotting Assn's one-year suspension for an alleged infraction against the rule forbidding giving a horse medicine before a race.

Then he hurried back to the track, apparently to pilot Scotch Harbor in the fourth race Instead, he withdrew from yesterday's program because of "confusion surrounding my status"

Nobody seemed to know whether Smart would drive in tomorrow's Little Brown Jug He is scheduled to pilot Castleton's Dutch Dandy in that $63,000 race

The USTA said late yesterday it would ask Judge William C. Bryant of Franklin County Common Pleas Court today to dissolve the restraining order issued Smart.

Redlegs Purchase Three From Tulsa

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three players have been purchased by the Cincinnati Redlegs from Tulsa of the Texas League, including the club's star hitter, Negro third baseman Charlie Harmon, Gabe Paul, vice president and general manager of the Cincinnati Baseball club announced today.

The others are catcher Ed Bailey and outfielder Bob Hazle

Harmon, who hit 310 for Tulsa, is to report to the Florida training camp next spring A former basketball star with Toledo University, he is 26, is six feet one, and weighs 180.

Paul also announced that the Cincinnati team has signed a working agreement with the Duluth, Minn., club of the Class C Northern league.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Allie Reynolds, New York Yankees, struck out 11 and allowed two hits in seven innings as the Yanks beat Philadelphia, 7-2.

Batting—Stan Musial, St Louis Cardinals collected five hits, including two doubles, in nine times at bat as he raised his season's average to .333 in a doubleheader against Milwaukee.

BEST FIST FORWARD. Randy Turpin, British middleweight boxing champion, displays his right fist over the rail of the liner Queen Mary after arriving at New York City to start training for his title bout with Carl "Bobo" Olson scheduled for Oct 21. He will go to Grossinger, N.Y., for workouts the day after the Marciano-La Starza heavyweight title fight Randy's manager said neither he nor Turpin has seen Olson in action and so the British champ "had a lot to learn." The bout is for the world title vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson.

Could Clinch Second

Rosen, Doby Hit Homers To Give Feller 10th Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Thanks to Bob Feller's 10th victory, the Cleveland Indians are in a position to clinch second place if they can beat the Chicago White Sox today in the season's last meeting of the two rivals.

Feller went all the way, allowing nine hits and five walks and fanning five in defeating Chicago, 8-3, last night. It was probably the last 1953 appearance of the Tribe's pitching dean, and it made his season record 10 won six lost—and improvement of last year's 9-13 mark

Al Rosen and Larry Doby each homered and together drove in five Cleveland runs Rosen's homer was his 41st, but Philadelphia's Gus Zernial also clouted one last night to keep the league lead with 42

Doby's homer, of Sandy Consuegra in the seventh with the bases empty, gave him an even 100 runs batted in for this season

Bob Lemon (20-15) was slated to hurl for Cleveland today against Saul Rogovin (7-11). In addition to wrapping up second place a triumph for Lemon would give the Tribe a stand-off with Chicago for the season at 11 games apiece.

Godfrey Sees Tough Battle For Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ernie Godfrey, Ohio State University football scout predicts Indiana will give the Bucks a tough battle in the season opener for both teams Saturday.

Godfrey said yesterday the Hoosiers, getting a fresh start, would like nothing better than to blast the Bucks

"If we played them toward the end of the season it would probably be an entirely different story," Godfrey told a local quarterback club.

Godfrey called the current Ohio State team "the finest group of boys with the finest morale since I've been at state (25 years). If hard work determines success, then we ought to win every game" he said

The Buckeys begin polishing up for Indiana today. They completed their toughening up sessions yesterday.

Coach Woody Hayes said his boys appeared to be in shape Only fullbacks Jack Gibbs and Jack Augenstein and tackle Bob Whetstone are thus far sidelined by injury for the opener

Buckeyes, MSC Picked To Win In Grid Openers

CHICAGO (AP)—They have you going and coming this one-platoon football season, but here's another plunge into midwest prognosticating:

Michigan State 20 Iowa 13—This Big Ten opener unveils powerful Michigan State as a conference member. Of their terrific 1952 momentum, we have to pick MSC's Spartans.

Notre Dame 19, Oklahoma 12—From the sound of Frank Leahy and Bud Wilkinson, this game should have been cancelled for further practice by both teams.

Minnesota 14, Southern California 13—A vote fo. Paul Giel, despite the Trojans' 29-13 victory over Washington State

Ohio State 21, Indiana 7 — Another Big Ten inaugural which the partisans of the Buckeye State expect will launch Ohio to a conference title. Indiana is willing but lacks the horses to cope with a rugged OSU line and bombing Johnny Bolton.

Michigan 20, Washington 14—If Colorado could handle Washington (21-2), so can the Wolverines.

Wisconsin 14, Penn State 7—All seems to be confusion in the Badger camp, but Alan (The Horse) Ameche should bring some order out of the chaos caused by loss of quarterback Jim Haluska.

Illinois 18, Nebraska 13 — The Cornhuskers in losing 20-12, to Oregon showed their flanks could be swept. And the Illini will sweep them

Purdue 20, Missouri 13—Stu Holcomb says his Boilermakers are as good as last year despite loss of quarterback Dale Samuels from a Big Ten co-champion team.

Northwestern 28, Iowa State 7—The Wildcats should be off and running with a fleet set of pony backs and the Dick Thomas-to-Joe Colher passing axis.

Ted Williams Story

Boston Slugger Changed Man Since Korean War

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON (AP)—Those who claim to know him best insist Ted Williams is a changed man since his return from Korea.

The Williams before the war was known, of course, to express, by word or gesture, his resentment of and contempt for abusive fans He was known to wrangle with newspapermen and photographers and could be downright rude on occasion.

The Korean War veteran of today is far less susceptible to criticism. His antagonistic attitude has given way to a live-and-let-live attitude He has become much more tolerant of others. He has learned to accept people for what they are and not what he would like them to be

Basically, Williams is still the same shy sensitive and at times complex person who is ever trying to cover up a kind inner nature with a gruff hard-boiled exterior. His moods can still be quick changing but generally he is cheerful and gay. It may be that his several narrow escapes from death while flying jets over Communist lines has made him more human He has found out that life is much more than hitting a baseball in the summer and fishing in the winter.

Williams blows a fuse when anyone suggests he may have changed.

"I'm the same guy I was last year, five years ago and 10 years ago," he reminds you. "I haven't changed in the least. I still think most newspapermen are jerks—and that goes for you, too They don't like me because I tell them what I think of them. Why not? They write what they think about me"

Ted smiled a little as he said it. But he looked straight at you as he always does when he's talking. Over the years he has told the truth consistently Not even his enemies can deny the man has barked out the facts even when it might have been more diplomatic not to mention them.

Owned by Herschel White of Hillsboro, her winning time in the pace for two year olds was 2 1 Jills Boy, winner of the first heat, finished seventh.

Redlegs Split Pair With Chicago Cubs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thanks to rookie left-hander Fred Baczewski's first major league shutout, the Cincinnati Redlegs split a two-night doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs last night to maintain their two-and-a-half-game edge in sixth place over the Windy City crew

The one run the Redlegs scored in the third inning of the first game was enough for Baczewski The Cubs scored one in the third and three in the fifth of the finale to win 4-1.

The two teams meet here again today Buster Mills, acting manager, the Redlegs ousted Rogers Hornsby, has selected Kenny Raffensberger to do the pitching chores. Bob Rush will hurl for the Cubs.

Hurls Two-Hitter

Yanks' Reynolds Wins, Set For World Series Opener

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

It could well be that Allie Reynolds has fastballed his way into the job of opening the World Series for the New York Yankees a week from today.

The veteran speed merchant certainly has erased all doubts as to his fitness. And last night he gave Charlie Dressen's spies an eyeful of some of the best pitching performed by any member of the Yankee mound staff this season.

Working against the admittedly weak Philadelphia Athletics Reynolds blazed his way to 11 strikeouts in seven innings while giving up two measly singles and walking four.

He struck out the side in the first inning and whiffed seven in the four innings. At the end of seven Casey Stengel decided he had seen enough of Reynolds for the evening And what he had seen had made him very happy.

Neither Stengel nor Dressen disclosed his World Series pitching rotation. But Reynolds fine form in recent weeks has inspired considerable support for the big chief to pitch the opener.

Reynolds, a 20 game winner a year ago, was sent to the bull pen late this spring because Stengel considered him more valuable in relief. The day the Yanks clinched their fifth pennant the New York manager declared Reynolds had been a prime factor in the 18 game winning streak in June and that he thought that streak had guaranteed the flag

The Oklahoman is 36 years old. He has appeared in five World Series, pitching 69 1-3 innings in 12 games and has a 6-2 record The New York Giants beat him once in 1951 and the Dodgers beat him once and lost to him twice last fall.

The Yankees beat Philadelphia 7-2 last night with both Philadelphia runs coming of Bob Kuzava who pitched the last two innings. One of them was Gus Zernial's 42nd home run, a blast which kept him one ahead of Cleveland's Al Rosen in the American League home run derby.

In other action yesterday the Brooklyn Dodgers closed their Ebbets Field season by tying the National League record of 60 victories and 17 losses. They beat Pittsburgh 5-4 in the final game. Milwaukee and St. Louis split as did Cincinnati and Chicago. Milwaukee beat St. Louis in the first game 4-3 and lost the second 10-7. Cincinnati edged Chicago 1-0, then lost 4-1. Philadelphia whipped the New York Giants 9-3.

The St. Louis Browns continued to pick on the only team in the league they can beat, the Detroit Tigers and scored a 7-3 victory. The Browns defeated Detroit 15 times in ten 22 meetings.

The Dodgers' victory over Pittsburgh was their 10th in 22 meetings. Junior Gilliam scored the winning run in the eighth when he hit a pinch hit double, stole third and scored on a wild throw. Brooklyn now is one shy of its all time best winning total of 104 games.

Eddie Mathews hit his 47th home run in the first game at St. Louis but he committed two errors in each game of the twin bill. Joe Adcock also homered in the opener. Stan Musial, still fighting to keep his batting crown, collected five hits in nine times at bat. He raised his average to .333 and would need an average of three hits in every four times the rest of the season to catch the injured Carl Furillo of Brooklyn who leads with .344.

The Phillies pounded four New York pitchers for 13 hits, making it easy for Curt Simmons to win his 15th game.

County Schools Begin Autumn Baseball Play

Green Camp, defending county league champs, Prospect and New Bloomington fashioned victories as the Marion County Baseball League opened Tuesday.

New Bloomington blasted Meeker 32-1 at Meeker while Green Camp edged Morral 2-1 and Prospect blanked Pleasant 8-0.

Prospect whipped Pleasant 8-0 at its home field behind Tom Hickman's shutout. He allowed only two hits, Bob Rodgers was his catcher.

The winners picked up their first run in the third and added two in the fourth and five in the fifth. Leading the seven-hit Prospect attack was Ronald Wood with a triple and single which drove in four runs. Hickman also had two hits. Rapp and Peacock collected the only Pleasant safeties. Prospect is at Morral Tuesday for another county league game.

Green Camp, defending county champs, edged Morral 2-1 on one hit, scoring both its runs on passed balls, in a game played at Morral.

Junior Bell gave up the only hit to Wasserbeck in the sixth, a single. But Green Camp scored a run in the third on a walk, fielder's choice and two passed balls and its second tally in the fifth on a hit batsman, two sacrifices and a passed ball Morral scored its only run in the sixth frame on a double by John Craycraft, single by Gene Moore, and double by Jim Shifflet Craycraft had two hits for the losers and Manfried Saxton clouted a triple in the third.

Louie Finch and Allen Stover were the Green Camp battery. Finch struck out five while walking one and Bell fanned nine and walked a like number of batters. Charlie Rice was the Morral catcher.

Mt. Victory is at Morral Thursday and Prospect is at Morral Tuesday in another county league tilt Morral Junior High meets Pleasant Junior High in a baseball game at Morral today.

Morral ran its record to 2-1 last Friday with a 9-4 win over Magnetic Springs as Bell twirled a six hitter while striking out eight

New Bloomington pushed nine runs across the plate in the first inning and came back with eight in the third and fifth. Meeker scored its lone run in the fourth

David Johnson went all the way on the mound for the winners and gave up a pair of hits. Four hurlers gave the New Bloomington hitters a total of 27 safeties. The winners were charged with one error while Meeker committed three.

Officials Association Schedules Annual Steak Fry for Thursday

The Mid-Ohio Basketball and Football Officials Association will sponsor its annual steak fry for members of the Association, Marion County Coaches and School Officials Thursday night.

The program is scheduled at Joe Cox's farm located north of Denmark at 6 p.m.

The Officials Association has sponsored a program of this type for several years so that coaches and school officials can meet and discuss problems with officials prior to the start of the basketball season. Official business of the Mid-Ohio Association will start on Oct. 7 when the first interpretation meeting in basketball will be held at the YMCA.

A recent ruling that all officials must attend four rules interpretation meetings during the year has caused the Mid-Ohio Association to open its membership to officials in the Central Ohio Area.

Rules interpretation meetings will be held in Marion on Oct. 7, 14, 21 and 28 and Nov. 4 and 18 Vern Miller, Secretary of the Association announced today that men in this area desiring to take state basketball tests must have their applications in to the Ohio High School Athletic Association in Columbus prior to Oct. 2. Examinations in basketball will be administered Oct. 10. All applications must be submitted to H. W Emswiler ten days in advance of the test Further details on football and basketball examinations may be obtained from Miller at the YMCA.

Bowling

LEG BROKEN IN FALL

UPPER SANDUSKY — J. C. Railing of this city was taken to Wyandot Memorial Hospital at noon Tuesday, suffering from a broken right leg, which resulted from a fall in his back yard.

KENNY SCHULTZ

Schultz, First Baron Signed, Awaits Opener

One of the first players to ink a Marion Baron contract for the fast approaching hockey season here was Kenny Schultz, a redheaded forward.

Schultz is one of the players working out at the combined Baron-Cleveland training camp on Lake Simcoe at Barrie, Ontario The two teams open the hockey season here in an exhibition game Oct. 11.

The 5'-11", 175-pound Schultz will be available for use at the left wing or center positions since he has played both He broke into organized hockey with the Pittsburgh Hornets. He later played with the Washington Lions and the Cleveland Barons and in the Pacific Coast League.

Knocked out twice in one game while playing for the Washington Lions, Schultz is a rough and ready player. Kenny says "I expect to give and take a few more jolts before this season is over." "It's all in the game." Coach Ott Heller of the Barons says "Kenny has plenty of what it takes to be in there fighting when the going gets rough."

A native of Preston, Ontario, where he was born in 1926, Kenny is married. He plans to live and work in Marion during the off-season.

Hockey officially opens here with a free hockey clinic at the Coliseum Oct 10. The Marion Barons will run off plays against the Cleveland Barons, American Hockey League champions and parent club of the local Barons.

Legion Corps Names Officers

Howard Sines New President of Group

Officers, headed by Howard Sines as president, were elected at a meeting of the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps held recently at the Marion Engineer Depot. Other business included plans for the year's activities.

Other officers elected were Roy Mash Jr., vice president, William Smith, secretary; Edward Long, treasurer; Bert Riley, quartermaster; Dr Gerald Strauss, historian. Appointed were Eugene Pletcher, director, Charles Browning, drill master and Wayne Wilhs, business manager.

Plans were made to increase the membership of the corps from 24 to 36 and also to enter drum and bugle corps contests in Ohio and adjoining states during the coming year. The corps also will play for the Marion St Mary-Lima St. Rose football game here Saturday night The corps will parade through the downtown section preceding the game and perform at the half-time intermission.

Announcement was made of plans of the newly-organized women's auxiliary to the corps, which has as its purpose assisting the corps by raising funds to help defray traveling expenses to the various cities where contests will be held.

DETROIT (AP) — A season - long guessing game was at an end today with the appointment of Fred Hutchinson as manager of the Detroit Tigers for 1954. Hutch, who pulled the Tigers out of the American League basement, agreed to a one-year contract yesterday, thereby ending all speculation as to his future with Detroit.

Toledo Sox Enter Finals of Playoff

By The Associated Press

The Toledo Sox, winners of the American Association pennant and one-half of the playoffs, open a three-day home stand Wednesday night against Kansas City, the other playoff finalist

The Sox eliminated Louisville from the running Tuesday night, 5-2, to end seven games of see-saw baseball in which the outcome seldom was decided until the final inning.

Bob Chipman, who won the opener for Toledo as a relief hurler, took the same role in the finale to hang up a record as the only double winner of their series.

Kansas City will be host to Toledo for the remainder of their best-of-seven series.

The proof of any gasoline is how it performs in your car

BLUE SUNOCO BEATS 15 PREMIUM-PRICED BRANDS

Proved in road tests conducted by U. S. Testing Co. using cars of every American make

High-Test Blue Sunoco gives up to 12.4% more miles per dollar than 15 premium-priced gasolines—matches them all for acceleration and over-all performance!

Instead of shouting "miracle" like other brands, Sunoco is proud to rest its case on a factual report of the U. S. Testing Company's road tests. Of the 16 gasolines tested, High-Test Blue Sunoco, the only regular-priced brand, delivered more miles per dollar, matched the acceleration and over-all performance of its 15 premium-priced competitors, which cost up to 3¢ more a gallon.

One Grade—Highest Quality

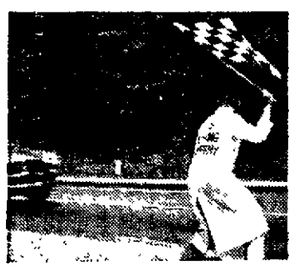
For over 25 years, the Sun Oil Company has produced one—and only one—highest quality gasoline. You will find no "second grade" gas pump in Sunoco stations.

This single-grade gasoline policy results in savings on tank ships, trucks, storage tanks, and pumps. These savings have been used to build special manufacturing equipment. Today—because of this policy—Sun Oil Company has an unusually high proportion of modern catalytic cracking equipment which, together with Sun's exclusive processes, gives you a superior, premium-performing gasoline —High-Test Blue Sunoco.

10-Gallon Test

Make your own 10-gallon test. For best results, don't mix High-Test Blue Sunoco with any other gasoline. Wait until your tank is nearly empty, then fill with at least ten gallons of Blue Sunoco. See for yourself the difference it makes in miles per dollar.

Ask your Sunoco dealer for more details about the Road Tests. Ask him, for example what gasolines were tested against Blue Sunoco. You'll find they include the premium-priced brands sold in your own neighborhood. Drive in today.



"PICK-UP" TESTS proved Blue Sunoco matched 15 gasolines costing up to 3¢ more per gallon. Different brands of gasoline were bought from filling stations, just as you would buy them yourself.

REPORT OF TEST
Test made for Sun Oil Company, 1608 Walnut Street, Philadelphia 3, Pa. Attention Dr. F. Bennett Rall, Director Research and Development Dept.
Material tested Blue Sunoco and Fifteen premium-priced gasolines.
PURPOSE: To compare the performance characteristics of Blue Sunoco and Fifteen (15) Premium-Priced gasolines sold in the Sunoco marketing area.
PROCEDURE: All gasolines were purchased at service stations by our personnel. Retail prices of these competitive gasolines ranged up to three cents (3¢) a gallon more than the price of Blue Sunoco with an average difference of two and nine-tenths cents (2.9¢) a gallon more than Blue Sunoco. All gasolines were identified only by code so that brand names were never known to our drivers.
Twenty-five (25) cars, representing every current American make and ranging from 1948 to brand new, were used in the test which was conducted on ... Pennsylvania. Now
Practically speaking, the results of this test show no difference between Blue Sunoco and any of the fifteen (15) premium-priced gasolines tested in either miles per gallon, acceleration, or overall performance.

Court Convicts 30 More Doukhobors Parading in Nude

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Thirty more Doukhobors were convicted of nude parading yesterday in trials that lasted three minutes each.

This brought to 79 men and women the number convicted under a Canadian law aimed specifically at the religious sect whose members parade unclad as a protest against government authority. There are 58, all women, still to be tried.

The Doukhobors paraded silently through court. They refuse to enter pleas, since they do not recognize the government's right to try them.

Magistrate Graham Ladner has not announced any sentences on the parading charges. The maximum under the law is three years in the penitentiary.

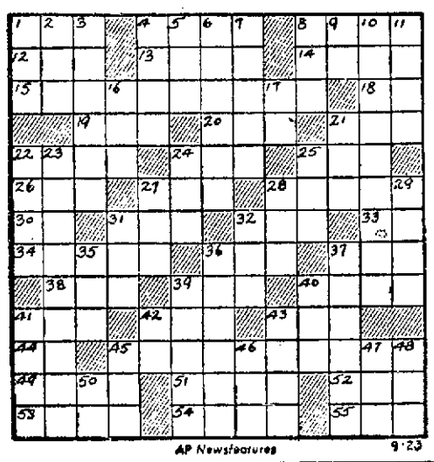
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle



Did You Know

A good average for the saltiness of seawater can be taken as 3.5 per cent, although in some isolated seas such as the Red Sea, where there is considerable evaporation, it may be as much as 4 per cent. The average saltiness of Great Salt Lake is 17 per cent, about five times as much as the ocean, though it does reach 23 per cent. The Dead Sea is even saltier, with a maximum of nearly 16 per cent.

The city of Cape Town, South Africa, almost literally grew from a package of seeds, says the National Geographic Society. Remembering that vegetables from a salvaged seed packet had saved castaways there in 1647, the Dutch East India Company founded a colony in 1652 to raise fresh food for passing ships.

—:—

In Kansas, the nation's No. 1 wheat state, experience shows that preparation of the seedbed for next year's crop is worth four bushels to the acre if done in July instead of in August. The July seedbed work returns an average of 10 bushels per acre over that delayed until September.
